consider . . .

The caterpiller. Small, insignificant, it pulls its tiny, undeveloped being along the ground. It searches.

And its search is a common one. The object of its determined struggle? A place. A niche. A branch. A twig. Somewhere to put its cocoon. Somewhere to fulfill the purpose for which it was created: somewhere to grow and change. For it is a time for metamorphasis.

The caterpiler enters the metamorphic state. The moth or the butterfly leaves it. Everything depends upon what goes into the cocoon.

The search is a common one. The object of the determined struggle? A place. A niche. A high school. St. Francis. Somewhere to put a cocoon built not of leaf and thread, but of thought and action. Somewhere to fulfill the reason men were set upon earth: somewhere to grow and change in perspective, in maturity, in that eternal pursuit of Knowledge. For it is a time for metamorphasis.

Metamorphasis — change. A boy of 14 will enter his high school career; a success or a failure will emerge from it. It will all depend upon what goes into that cocoon.

Adolescence is such a cocoon. The changes made are dictated solely by the individual. A butterfly — or a moth — result from those changes. The "somewhere" is St. Francis. It is the branch upon which are built hopes and dreams. Everything depends on the individual: the academics, the extracurriculars; the successes, the failures.

Adolescence is a cocoon. We are that caterpiller. The world is an oyster. It is up to us to make ourselves its pearl.

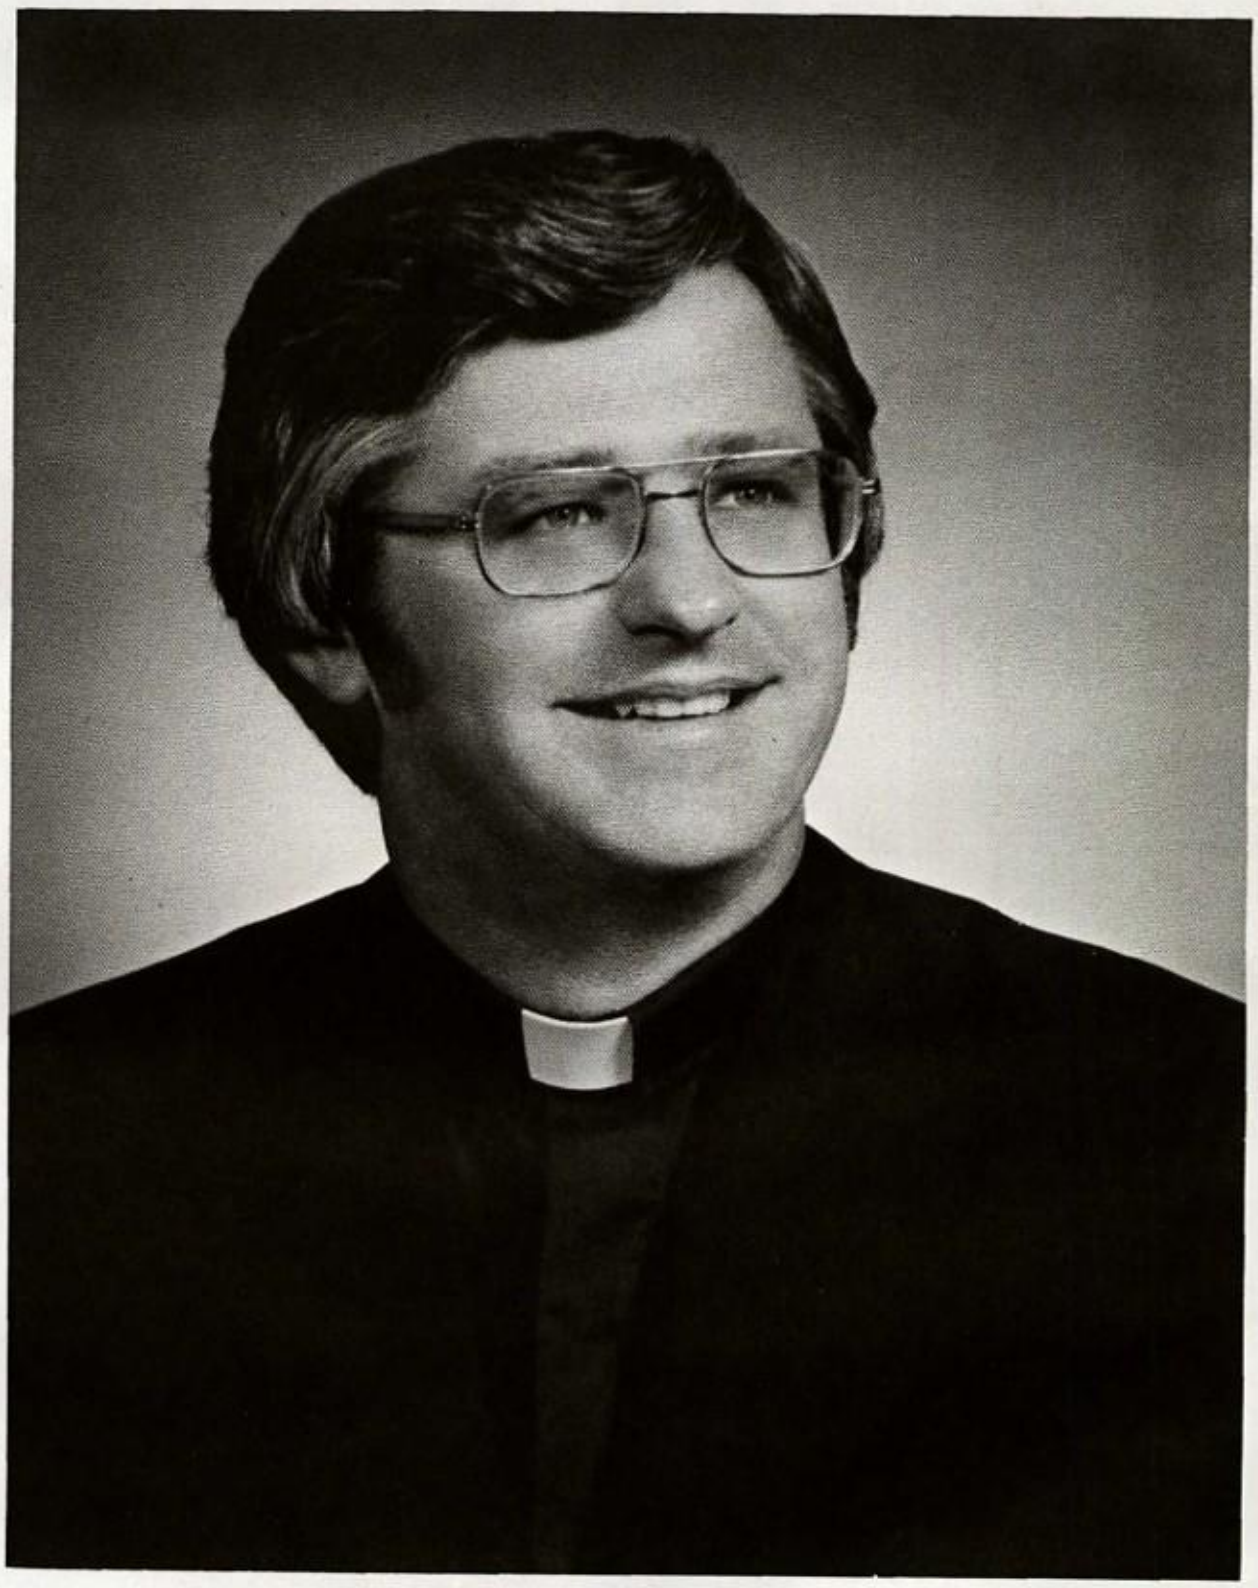
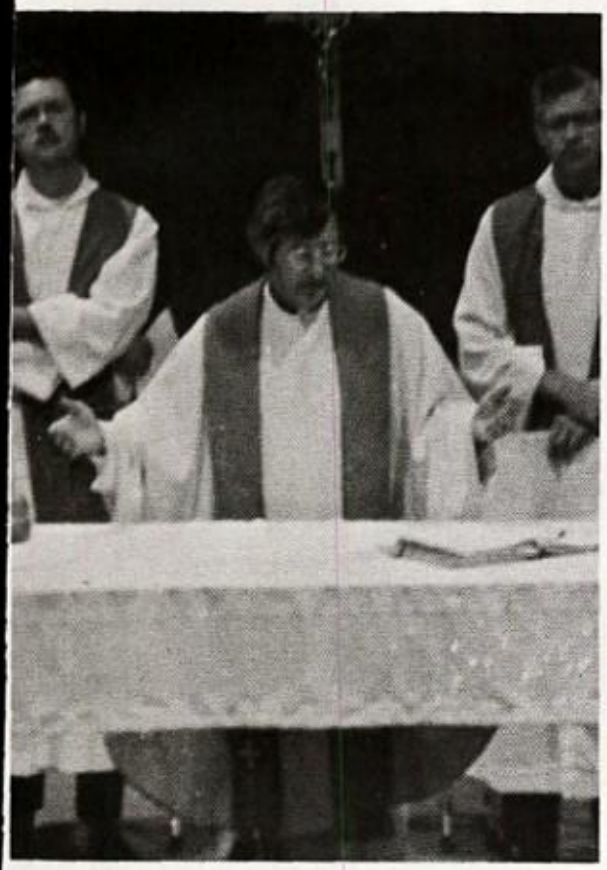
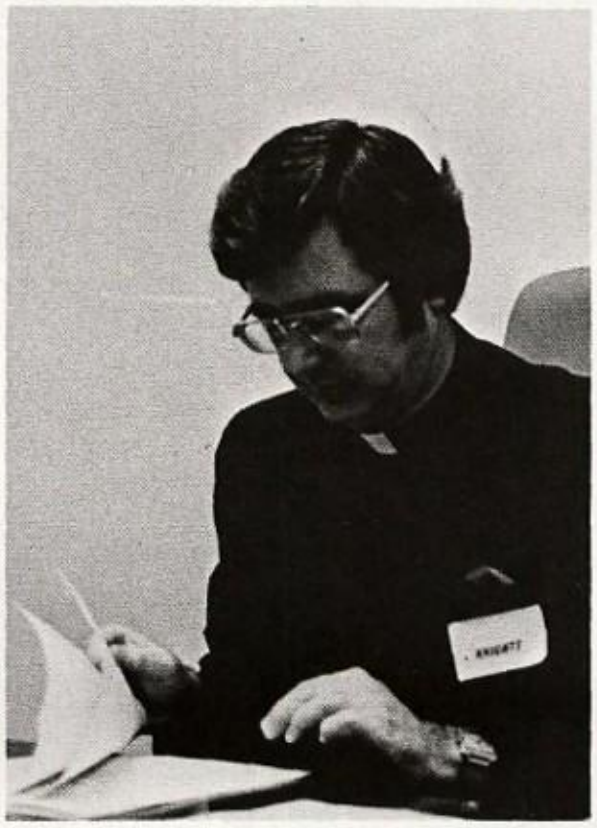
the people

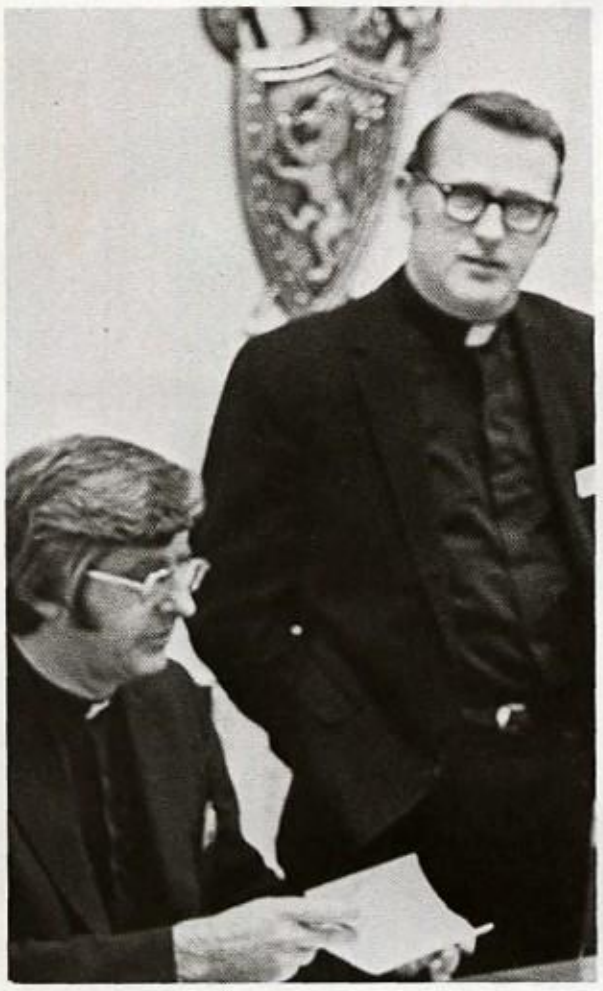
Father Healy — Uncle Bob:

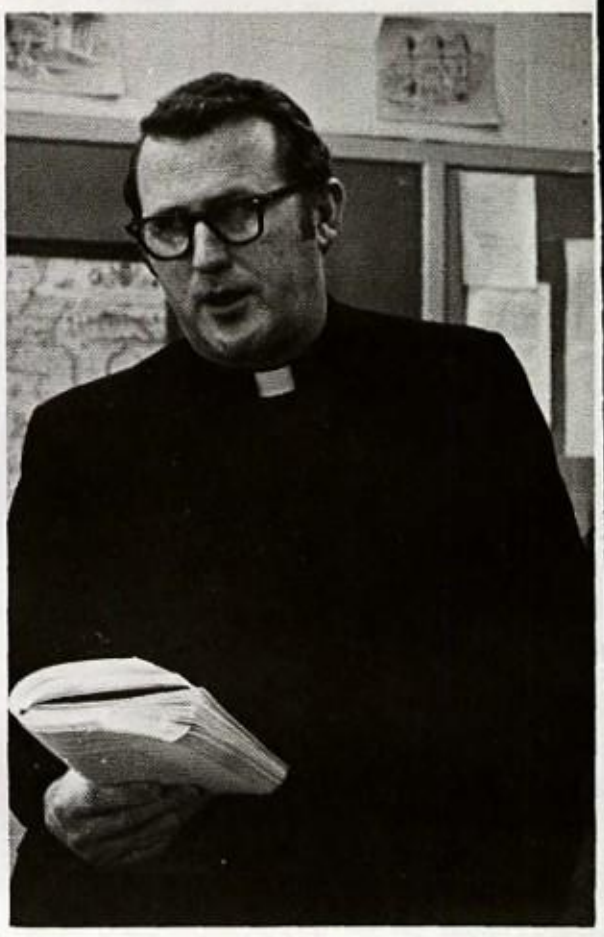


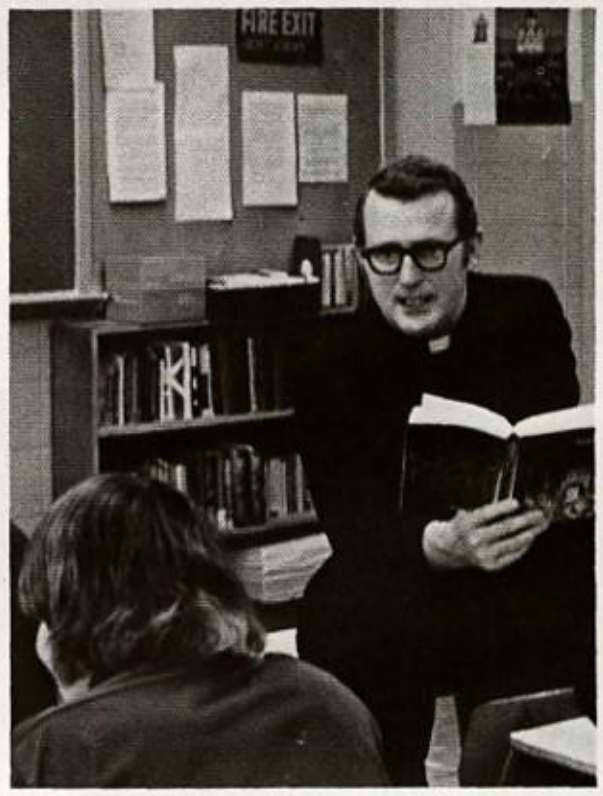




Every institution needs a leader . . . overseeing activities, stimulating new programs and overall growth and mirroring injustice or discontent. At St. Francis this multi-faceted role is played by Fr. Robert Healy. Our most ardent fan, our most tireless innovator and our most sincere critic, Fr. Healy is more than a nominal leader — he lives for the success of the St. Francis community.



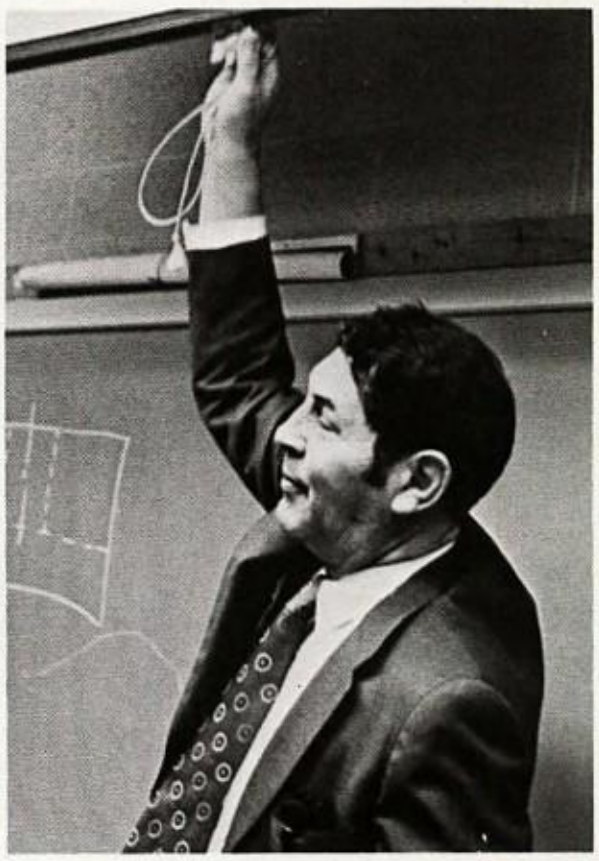


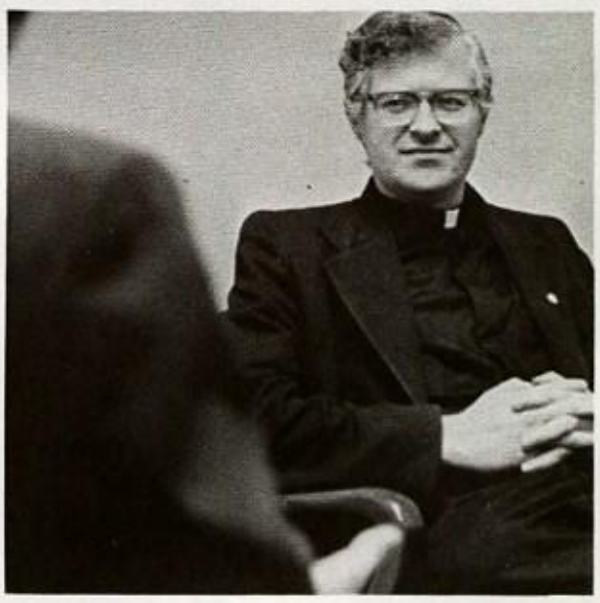


FIRE EXIT

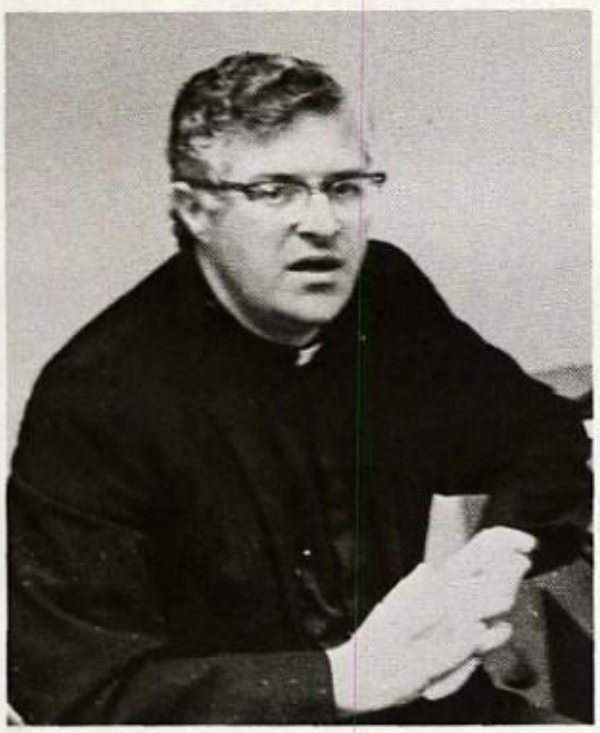
The "Vice" Squad

The neccessary task of overseeing the day-to-day operation of St. Francis falls to two extremely well qualified individuals. Fr. James Prentice is the Vice-Principal in charge of Academics, handling such programs as visitation and tutoring. Mr. Richard Mattingly deals with student workers, and plays a vital part in arranging the numerous activities of the St. Francis community.





800 To Deal With



The task of the Discipline team is a thankless one. They are either too strict or too lenient, too involved to judge fairly or too impersonal. They have a function to perform, a code to enforce, and this enforcement necessarily sets the tone of the whole St. Francis community. The tone of 1973-74 was one of great communication, of different groups working toward common goals, and a great deal of this success is attributable to Fr. Thomas Landgraff, Fr. Dave Whalen and Fr. James Cutter. When dealing with 800 individuals it is often difficult to maintain both order and rapport. The achievement of these goals stands as a monument to these men.

Guidance, The Catalyst For Change

Change. Expansion. Confusion. Guidance. From the cocoon of a young freshman, St. Francis consistently produces young men with eyes on the future. The St. Francis Guidance Department has the personnel to give both a long and short view of maturity. Mr. Don Wyper deals with standardized testing, Fr. Rich Forti handles tall tasks of applying to small schools with big tuitions, and Mr. A.T. (alias Bugs) Moran handles scheduling with assists from Fr. Cecil O'Donnell and Fr. Dominic Finn.

The Ladies in Our Lives

There are certain people at SFS upon whom everyone depends, and yet who receive at most a token appreciation. These are the ladies on the staff who labor to keep the office, kitchen, library and infirmary functioning at peak efficiency. It is impossible to enumerate the plethora of tasks performed by this loyal few, but we can salute them with a sincere but insufficient "thank you."

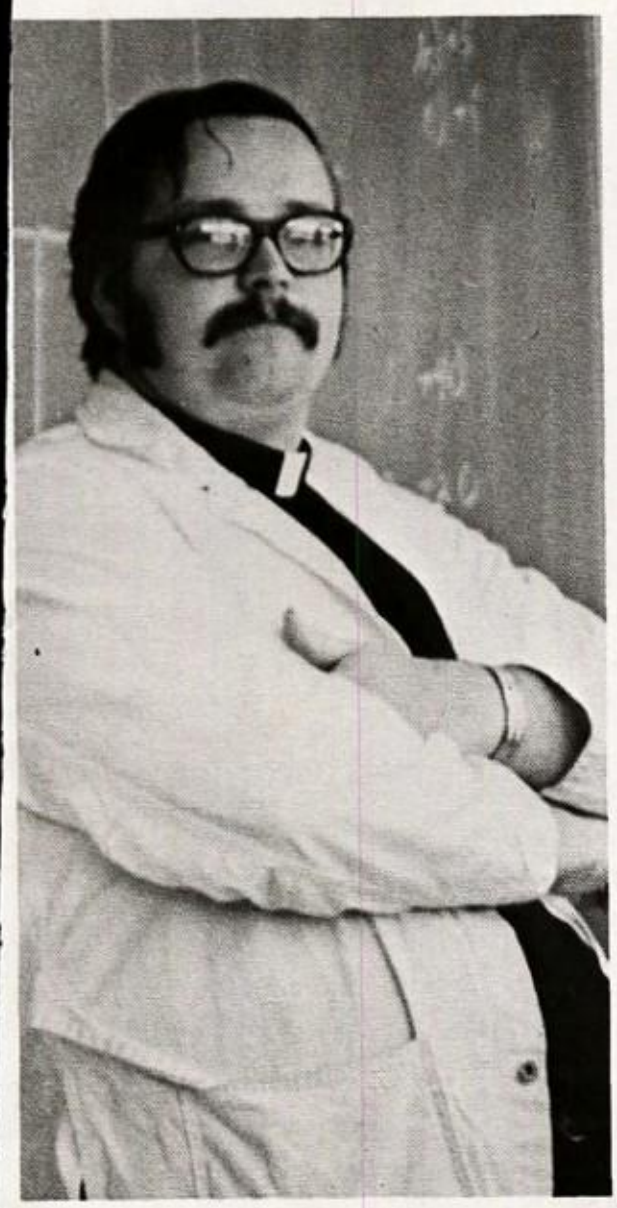
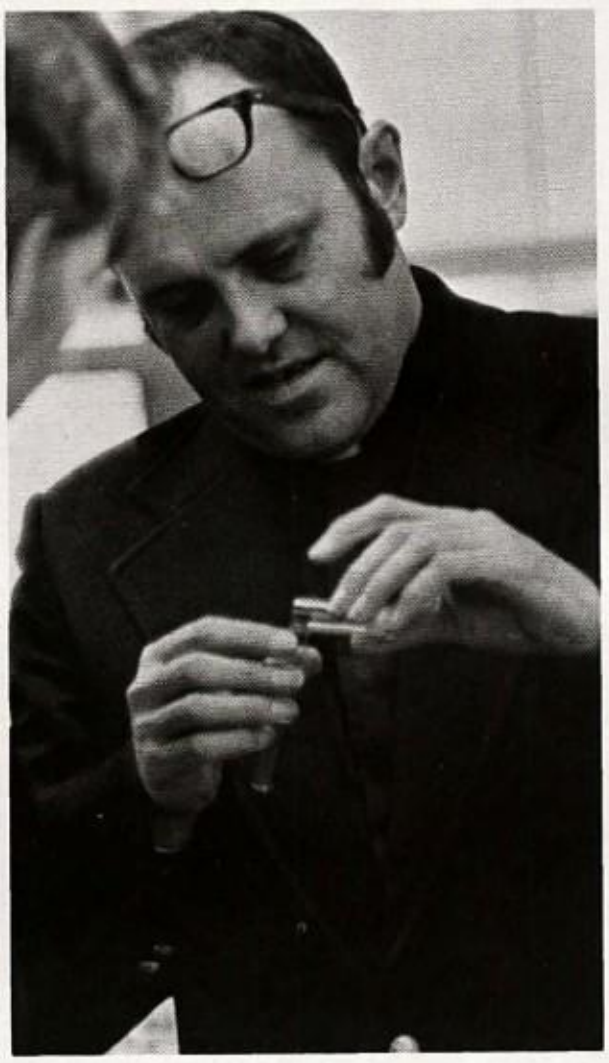
English Spoken Here?

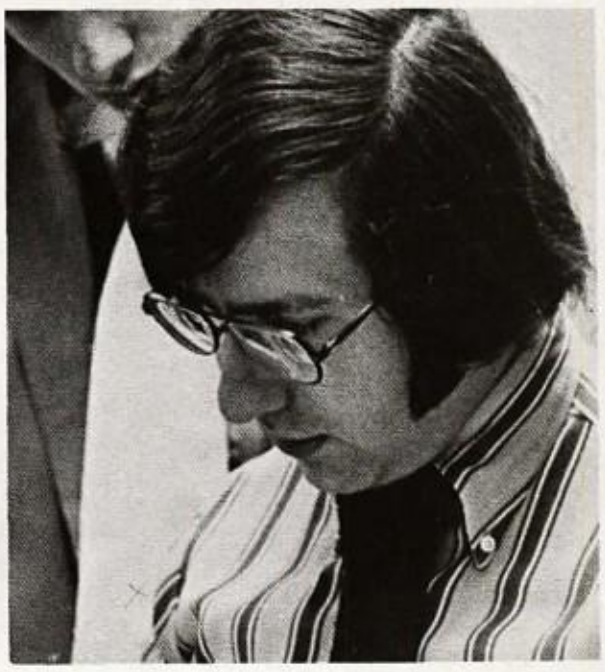
The subject in which we have the most practice often seems to be the most difficult. Many times the basic idea of communication is lost in a maze of gerunds, participles, and ablative absolutes, making English seem more like a foreign language than a native tongue. Literature must, at times, be translated before it can be analyzed . . . a native tongue indeed! The English headmasters at St. Francis include Fr. William Fisher, Fr. James Prentice, Fr. Edward Chrzanowski, Rev Mr. Pat Geraghty, Gene Antoszewski, Larry Jankowski and Robert Stucker.

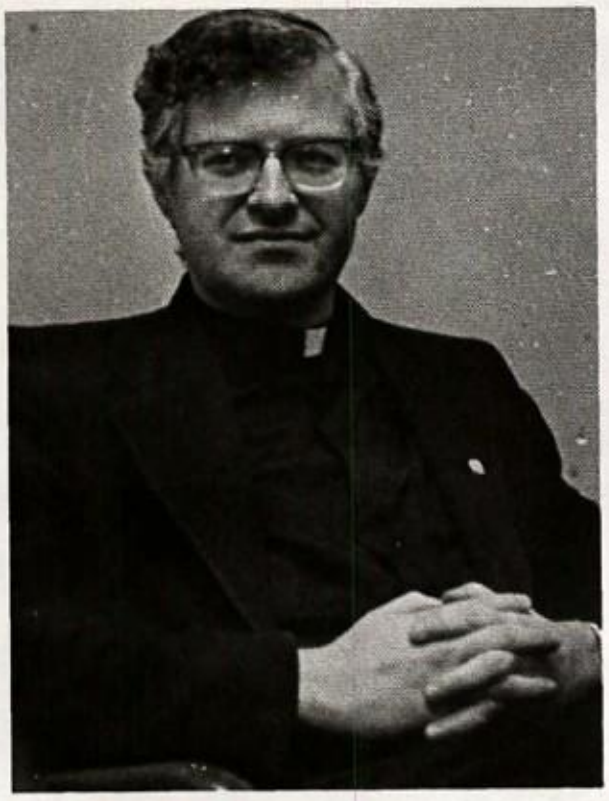
The Games Scientists Play

Hypothesis — Experiment — Data — Guess? Every student at St. Francis is aware of this format. Whether it be Intro/Science, Biology, Chemistry, Physics or Geology, we appear hopelessly entangled in a web of confusion. Coccous or Bacillus, atom or molecule, velocity or acceleration, or fossil or something, science with all of its exactness is still a guessing game: "Is this your life?" hosted by Fr. Thomas Landgraff, Joseph Sevenich, and Dennis Graves; "What's my ion?" sponsored by Fr. John Ebenhoeh and A.T. (alias Bugs) Moran; "Physics — Mission Impossible" conducted by the same Mr. Moran and Fr. John Gussenbauer, or "As the world turns" courtesy of Mr. Larry Jankowski. When entering St. Francis, one yields his option to pass or play, and so it seems that these game shows will continue to be among the highest in the ratings. A word of advice from the sage: If you don't know what you're doing, do it neatly.









New Courses Allow New And More Choices

Without a doubt, the watchword for 1973-4 academics at SFS was innovation. A new program in English made possible a selection of over 40 different courses. A progressive Geology program was initiated which includes seminars and a number of field trips. Finally, the Monday Evening Religion Program which was so successful last year has been refined in order to allow greater development and academic freedom.

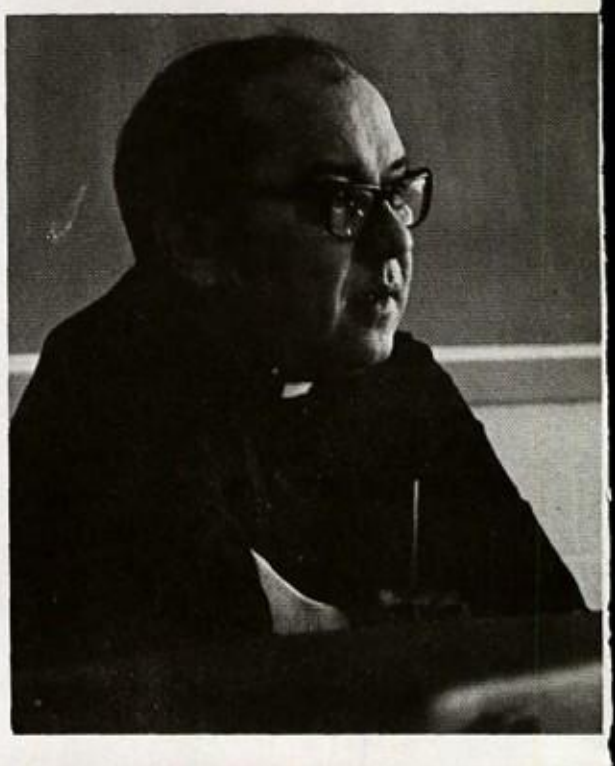
This is Logical?

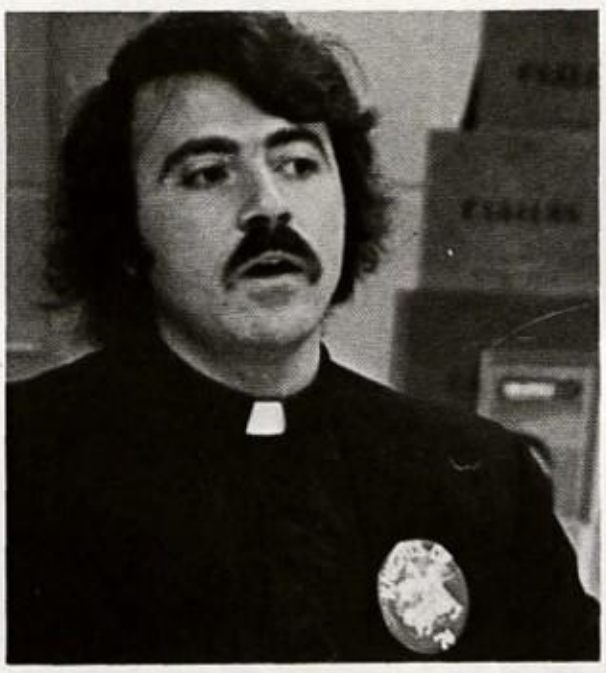
Many a student's journey through St. Francis is hampered by mental meanderings in the frustrating field of mathematics. Freshmen are taught basic strategy, sophomores are educated in more advanced theory, but spend some time off on tangents, Juniors are asked to prove the unimaginable, and Seniors learn the intricacies of function magic. If at any time one becomes discouraged — losing his logic and patience somewhere in an insoluable equation, it would be good to remember the words of our fearless leader Fr. Dominic Finn and his cohorts Fr. Cecil O'Donnell, Fr. Richard Ankenbrandt, Fr. James Cutter and Mr. Timothy Horne — "We're not supposed to be able to do these things anyway."

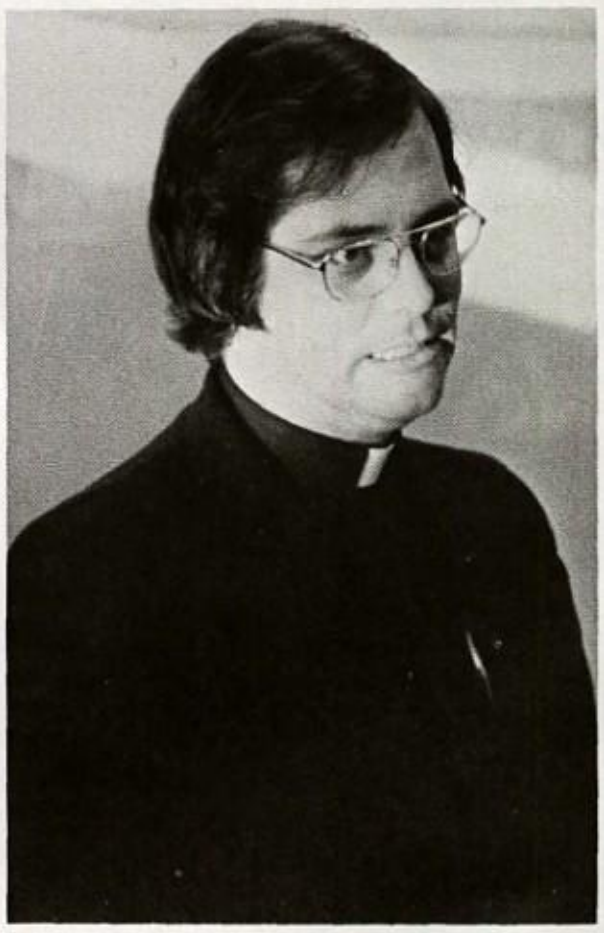


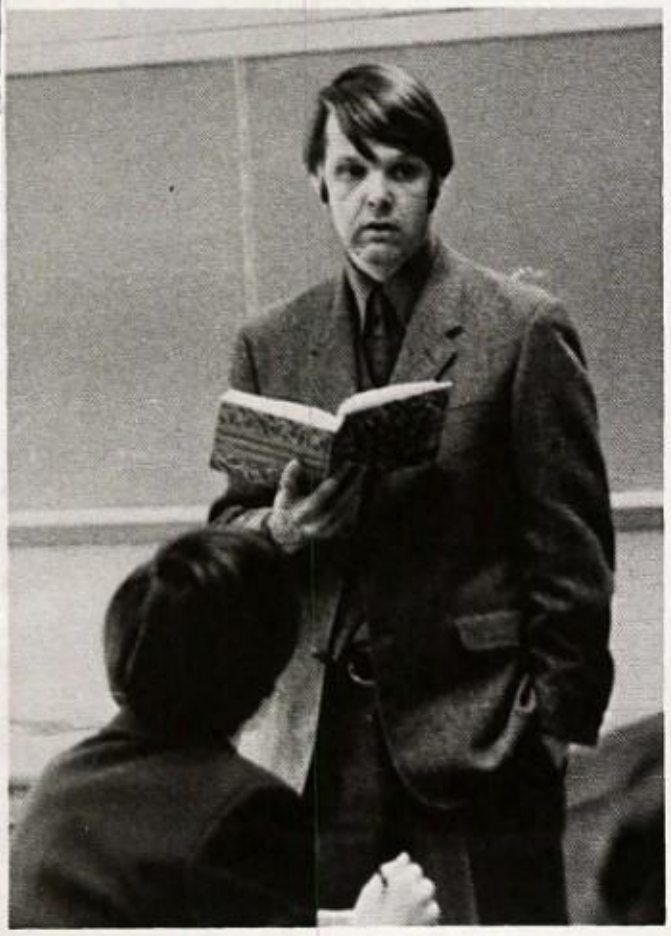
Jeff,

I'm sorry I never called you down to my office to talk about "the weapon." If I had, I'd know you better now.

Take care &
Good luck.
Fr. Forte







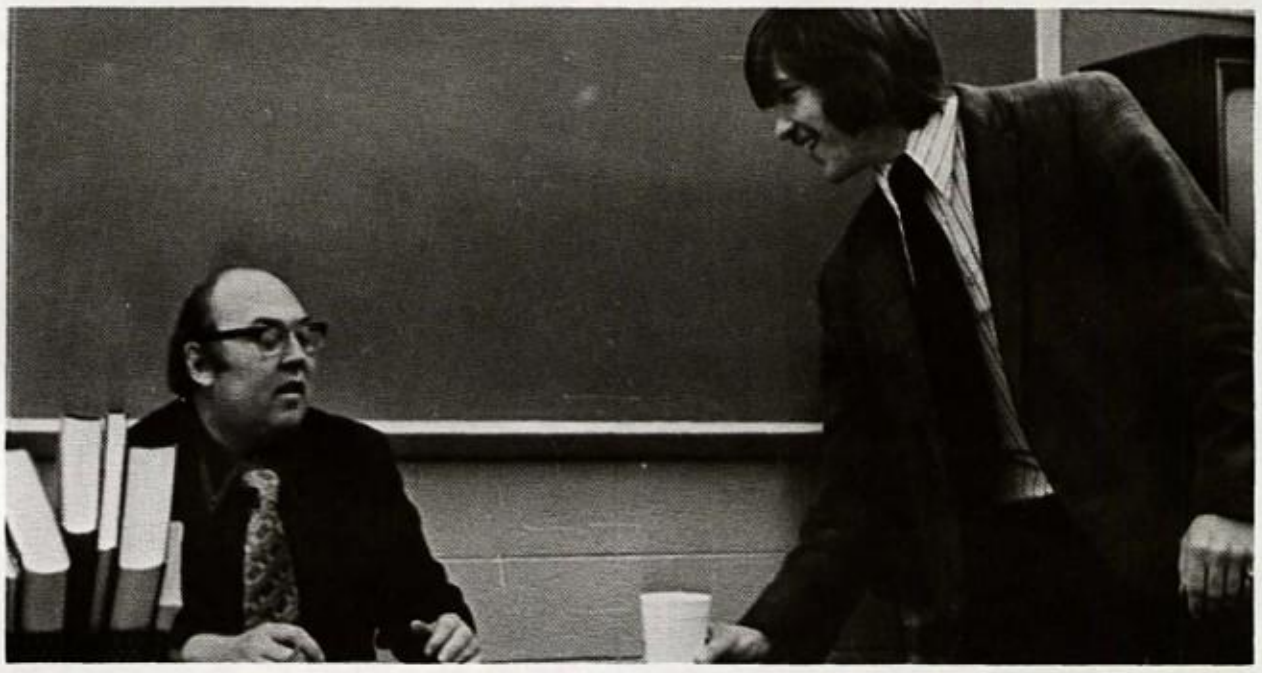
Languages: A Taste of the Exotic

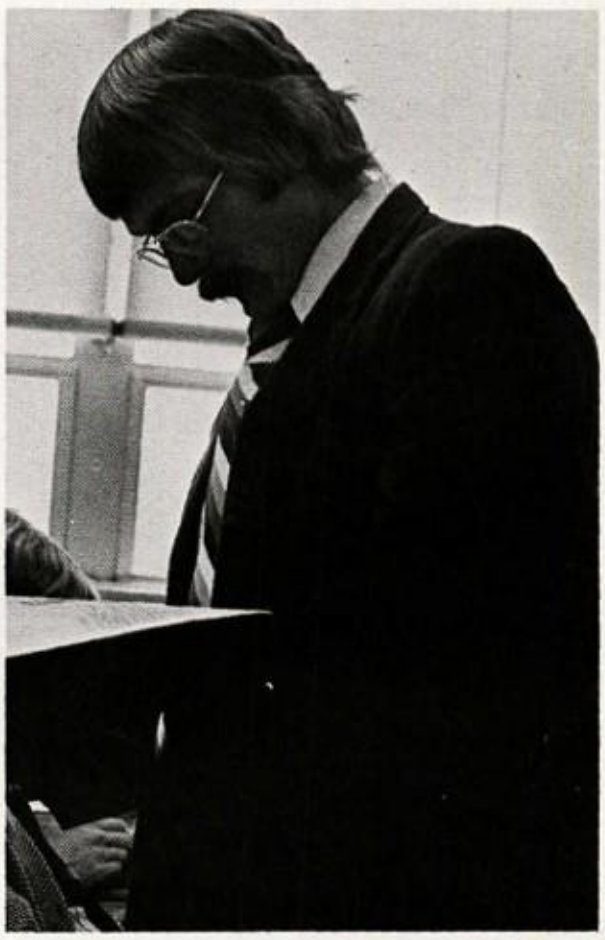
Languages are often difficult to learn because they are dynamic. The same can be said for the members of the foreign language department at St. Francis, now all male. Besides a superb foreign studies program, the language and culture of France, Germany, Russia, and ancient Rome can be studied. Often included in the course outlines are audio/visual presentations, and even an occasional bowling or mixology lesson. The perpetrators in this field are Fr. Joseph Baraniewicz, Br. Richard Eberle, Mr. Juergen Mudrow, Fr. Dave Whalen, Fr. Rich Forti, and Fr. J.J. Sottek.

Thanks for a good year
Richard Eberle

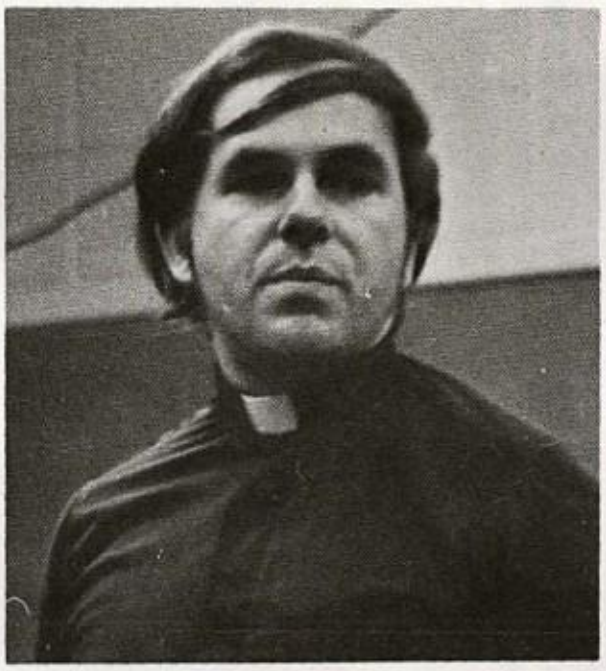
A Journey into Days of Future Past

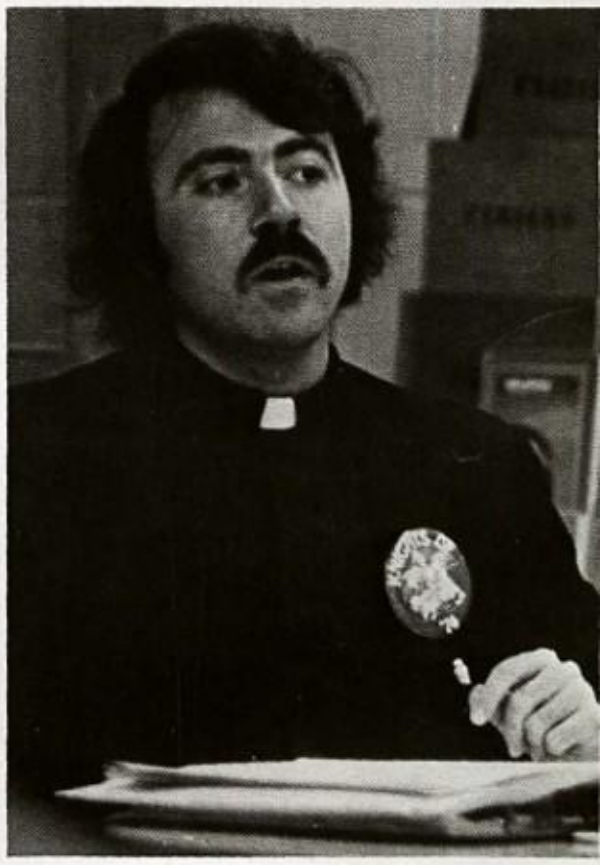
If we accept the notion of man's existence as a social being, then the role of Social Studies becomes strikingly apparent. Rather than a drilling of each social concept, a student at St. Francis receives an overview — a look into the past, social experiences in the present, and an occasional glance into the future. We are no longer held captive by voluminous texts, but rather are more concerned with expanding our outlook. The St. Francis community is fortunate to have such diverse members as Fr. Nicholas Koelzer, Mr. Don Kober, Mr. Jim Robinson, Mr. Paul Johnson and Mr. Jon Wozniak to provide guidance through the indistinct pathways of time.

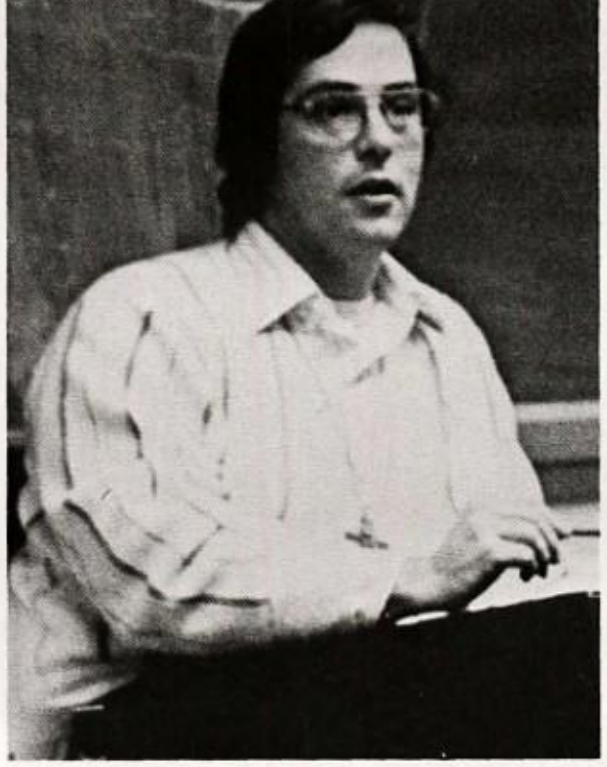




Religion: More Than Just Studying



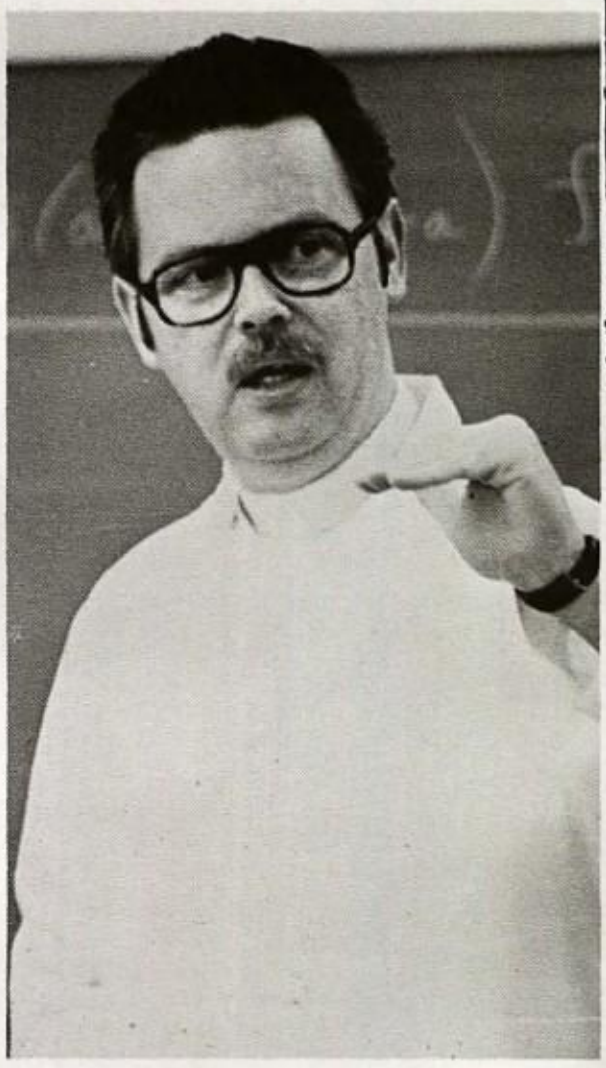


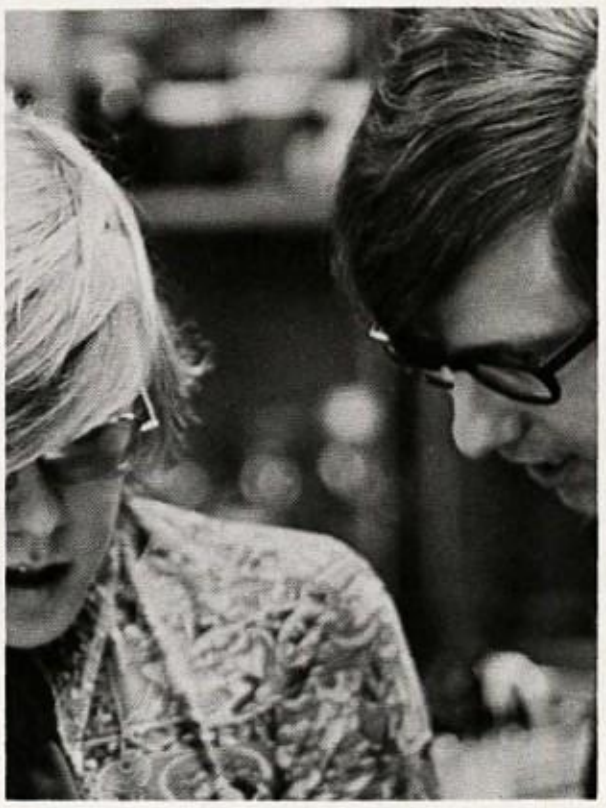


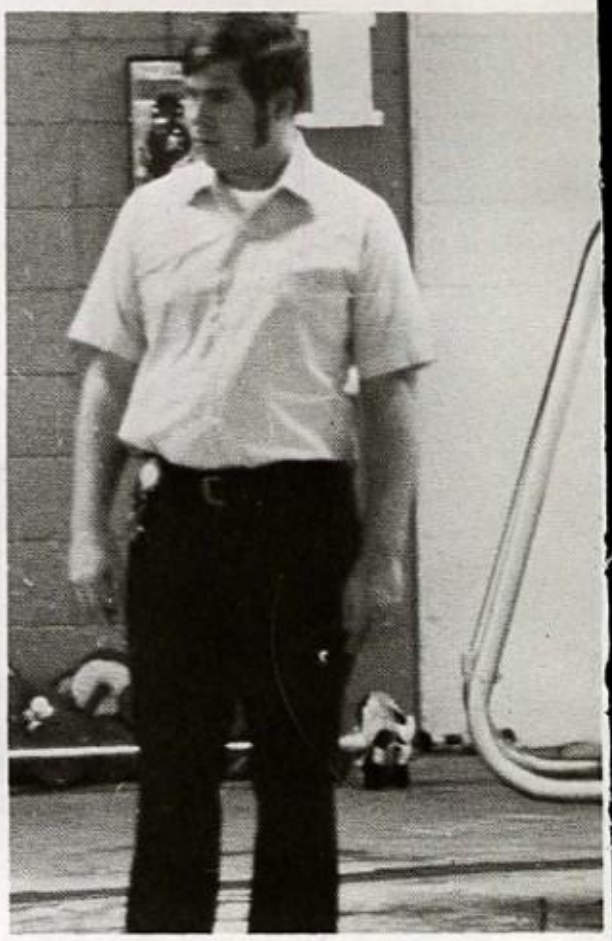
Religion, more than just another department at St. Francis, exists as a way of life, making the ordinarily hectic existence just a little more bearable. The Religion department is one of the more innovative, arranging social work projects and adding a feminine viewpoint through the Monday Evening Religion Program for Seniors. The talented troupe which masterminds this operation includes Fr. Jim Doll, Fr. John Gussenbauer, Fr. Edward Chrzanowski, Fr. Dave Whalen, Fr. Richard Forti, Fr. James Sottek, Fr. Thomas Landgraff, T. J., Sr. Jane Connors and Sr. Joanne Juhasz.

College-Bound Brains

The diversified St. Francis curriculum offers a fantastic opportunity for the achievement-minded student. Slected Juniors and Seniors work with a flock of experienced instructors, searching for the keys to success on the Advanced Placement tests. Fr. Dominic Finn guides his charges toward a greater unsderstanding of differentiation and integration in good ol' Calculus. Fr. William Fisher tries to pass on his superior command of English grammar and analytic interpretation. Fr. John Ebenhoeh and Mr. Larry Janowski share their wealth of scientific knowledge and methodology with the Advanced Chemistry and Biology students. The culture and literature of Germany and France are examined in depth by students under the expert tutelage of Herr Juergen Mudrow and Père Joseph Baraniewicz.







The Tangible Studies

Lest anyone get the impression that St. Francis deals solely in the theoretical areas of learning, some acknowledgement should go to the courses which serve to sharpen more mechanical, anyway. Val Glinka and Dennis Graves supervise the physical education classes for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. Mr. Mattingly teaches a course in Mechanical Drawing and Br. Charles Dulin drills his typing classes, showing them the finer points of a much-manhandled art.

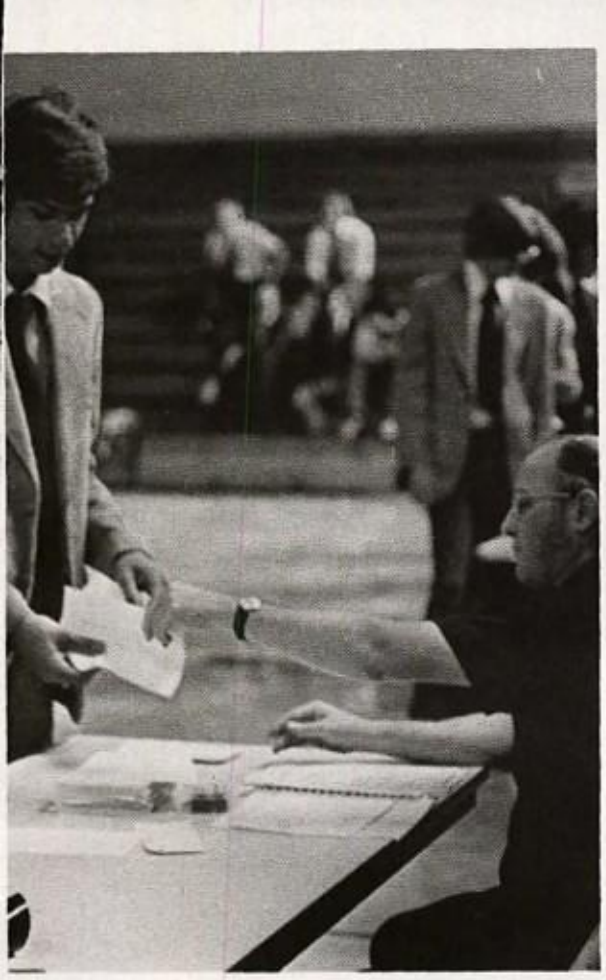
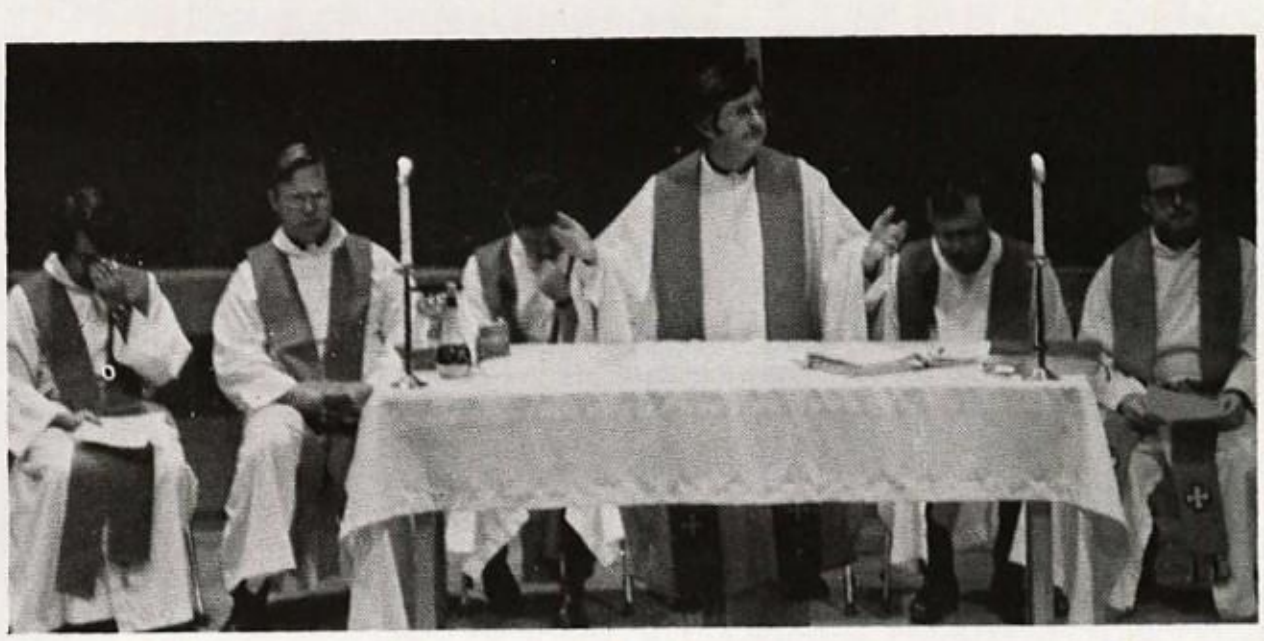
Caution: School Zone

Mothers and fathers tearfully watch as their sons get out of the cars and walk into the masonry building. Going to war? Going to prison? Close. Going to school. It is September, and for St. Francis students, a new year has begun. Bookfairs; Registration; time to have pictures taken. Time to sit back and evaluate the past and plan the future. Time for first period! Freshmen flounder; seniors sigh . . . it's time for a Mass of Thanksgiving. Thanksgiving? Yes. For admit it or not, St. Francis is more than a school to its members. It is a way of Life.





Close, But No Cigar

After having spotted the season two losses through hard-fought, narrowly-lost battles with Whitmer and Sandusky, the 1973 offering of the St. Francis football department came of age. By growing in experience and determination from their previous campaigns, the gridiron gang steamrolled their way through Central's stubborn squad, 7-6, and into the heart of the Blue Division via 62-0 and 14-8 wins over Libbey and Waite, respectively. The next contest aroused many of St. Francis' athletic supporters; the game was against St. John's for what would later prove to be a berth in the Shoe Bowl. The Knights came up 7 points short, as they were shut out by a powerful Titan Team. Wins over Stritch and Bowsher ended the season on a winning note, as the squad put the year to bed with a 6-3 record.

Harriers Hustle to Finish 13—1

Our 1973 Cross Country team was far and away the best in St. Francis history. The harriers recorded an impressive 13-1 slate, and advanced several individuals to the District and State meets. Even though these dedicated athletes are motivated primarily by determination and personal satisfaction, it is safe to say that the sparkling efforts put forth by Jim Deckelman and Al Pinkleman deserve recognition. It is also fitting that Gary Bryan be given special credit for his high finish in the Districts and 33rd place finish in the State meet, and that Coach Pat Geraghty be lauded for guiding the harriers toward their successes.

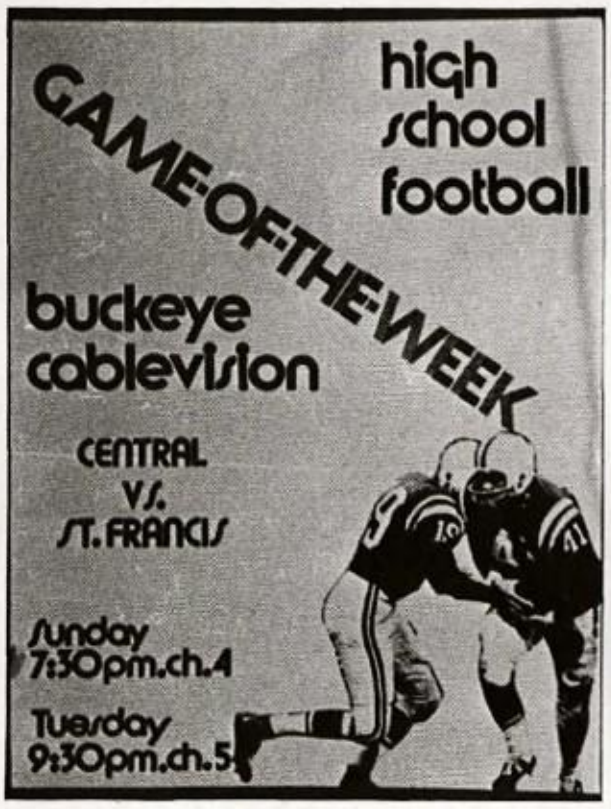
Knights feast before battle

This year's Homecoming Dance could have been renamed the Homecoming Phenomenon. Innovation and the widespread desire to actively support such a break with tradition made the occasion the overwhelming success that it was. The dinner/dance attracted a record crowd, which delved into delectable delights and reveled in the resonating rock & roll repertoire of Toad Flax. The crowning of Homecoming Queen Molly Murtaugh by Fr. Healy climaxed the evening, sparking the flame of excitement and pride which characterized the remainder of the weekend.

Rally and Parade Spur on Victory



The insuperable frenzy of Homecoming weekend was immeasurably heightened by the presence of the pre-game rally and the Game Day parade. At the rally, a resounding volley of cheers signified the inevitable explosion of Knight enthusiasm; the vocal uproar shook the very foundation of the gymnasium. The Sunday morning procession to DeVilbiss stadium was reminiscent of the days of old, when such a massive mobilization of manpower was a common sight on its way to the Holy Land. The Knights were firing on toward the Grail — the Irish Knight.

Spirit is in St. Francis

All inside the Mustang grow silent; the target approaches. A figure glances out the window. "The others are ready and the coast's clear."
Fourteen silhouettes scramble out of the cars and up the hill, paint cans in their arms. Twelve get to work while two watch for "trouble."
Thursday night. Three shadows roam the dimly lit corridors, carrying colorful signs ready for installation. It is 1:30. Yet they keep on.
Six girls. First they huddle. Then they practice. It is not their school; they do not have to do it. They do: and their loyalty is fierce.
Spirit is dead only to those who sit in emotional cemetaries and mourn the gravestones of the past. They spend their time either eulogizing over the grave or waiting for a resurrection that will never happen. They will never know life; they do not bother to leave their psychological barriers to go and seek life. To seek spirit.
Look. Go. Participate . . . watch the pies fall, cheer with all your heart; with all your soul. Life is in spirit. Spirit is in St. Francis.

The Stage Setters

Every successful endeavor is based upon hard work, but there are times when this work goes unhearalded. Such is the case with the Stage Crew for St. Francis' Dramatic productions. While the thespians are reveling in the well-deserved applause, the stage crew headed by Mr. Robert Stucker and Br. Richard Eberle must remain content with quiet satisfaction, knowing that without them, the show would indeed not go on.

For years upon years, the fall play has dealt solely with comedy. It almost became a tradition. Until someone realized that even traditions have their beginnings. That realization had a, pardon the expression, dramatic effect upon the choice of play this fall; "Catch Me If You Can," basically a melodrama, extended the scope of the department to include the element of tragedy.

Director Gene Antoszewski placed the fate of the experiment into the hands of an experienced group of actors: Jim Loeffler, John McGowan, Chris Burkhardt, Gene Williams and Jay Nussel. The capabilities of newcomers Cathy Cothrel and Martha Hanley rounded out the cast. A cast of a few thousands under Mr. Robert Stucker and Bro. Richard Eberle succeeded in creating one of the finest sets to ever grace a high school stage. As production assistant Mike Mayer would say: "No notes tonight." The production was a success.

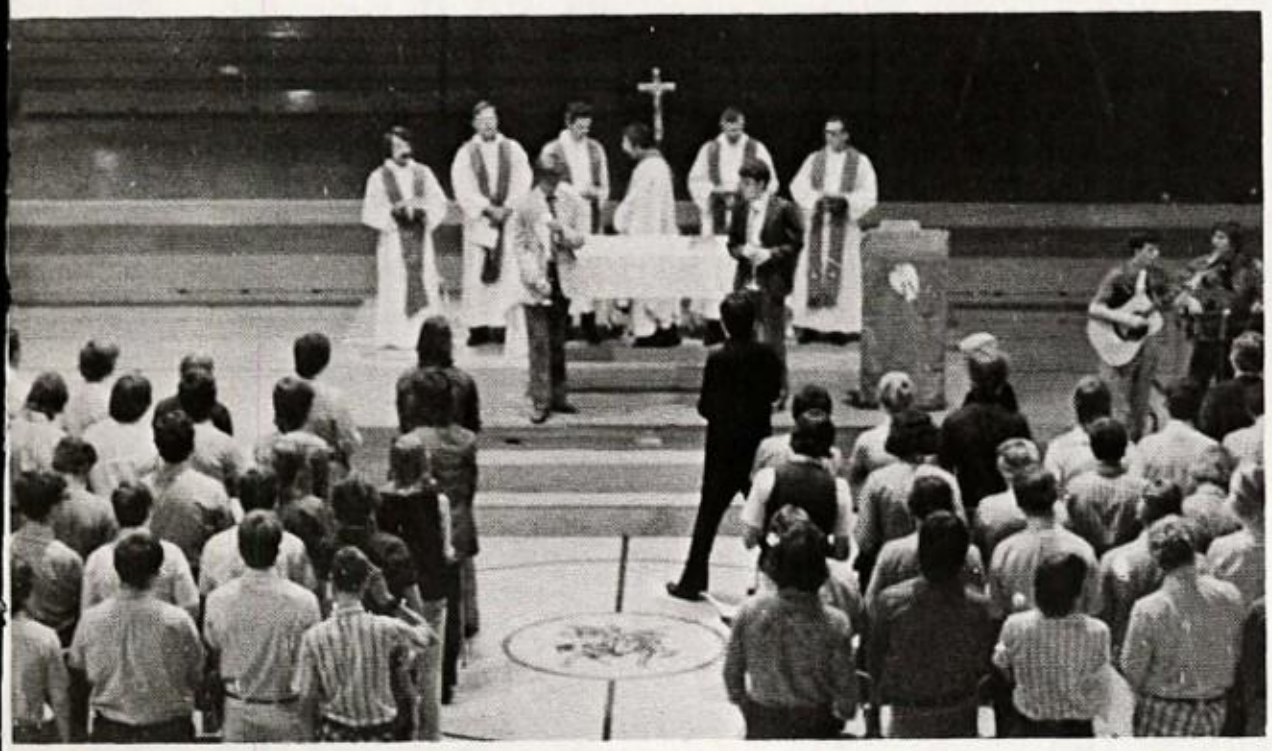
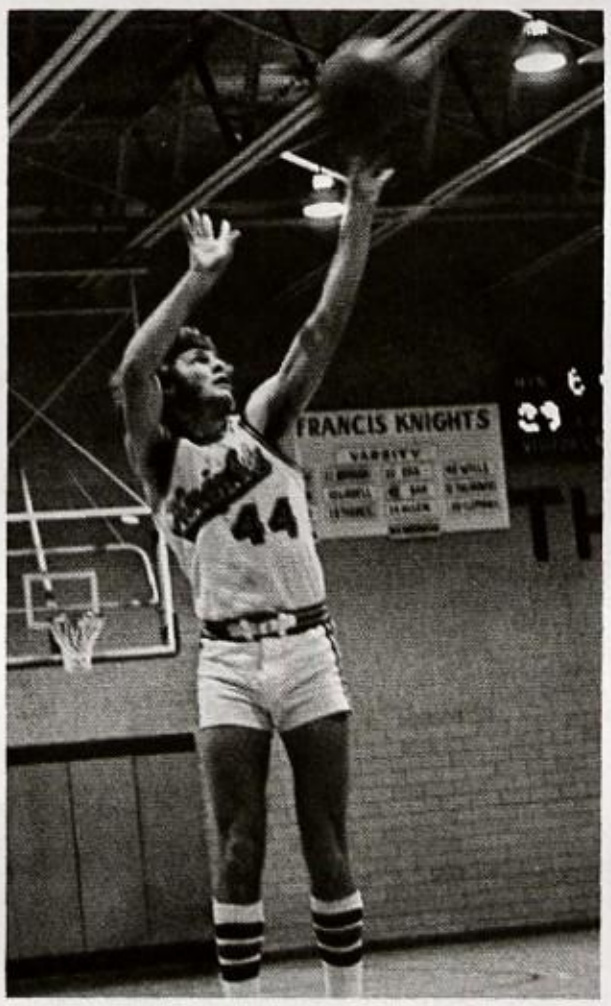
The Inspiration, The Fun

The community aspects of St. Francis are further fostered through rallies and various assembly presentations. The Rally Committee, headed by Jim Loeffler and Tom Buehrer, works to inspire the student body. The Assembly Chairman, John McGowan, is constantly searching for amusing and somewhat educational presentations to entertain the community. Whether it be a "Beat Central" rally, a Shakespeare assembly or a concert by a renowned choir, rallies and assemblies serve to bring individuals together in a sense of constructive fun.

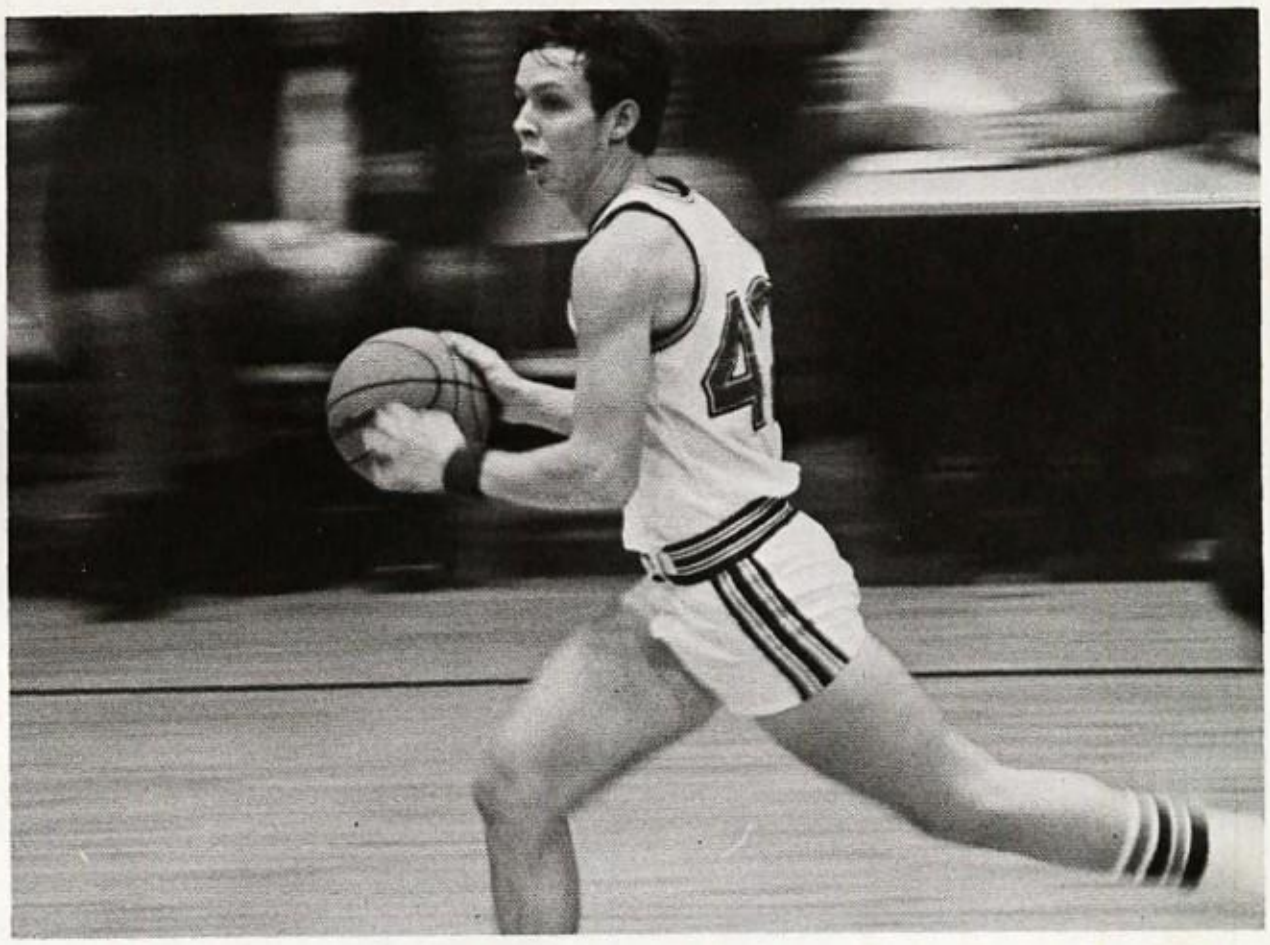


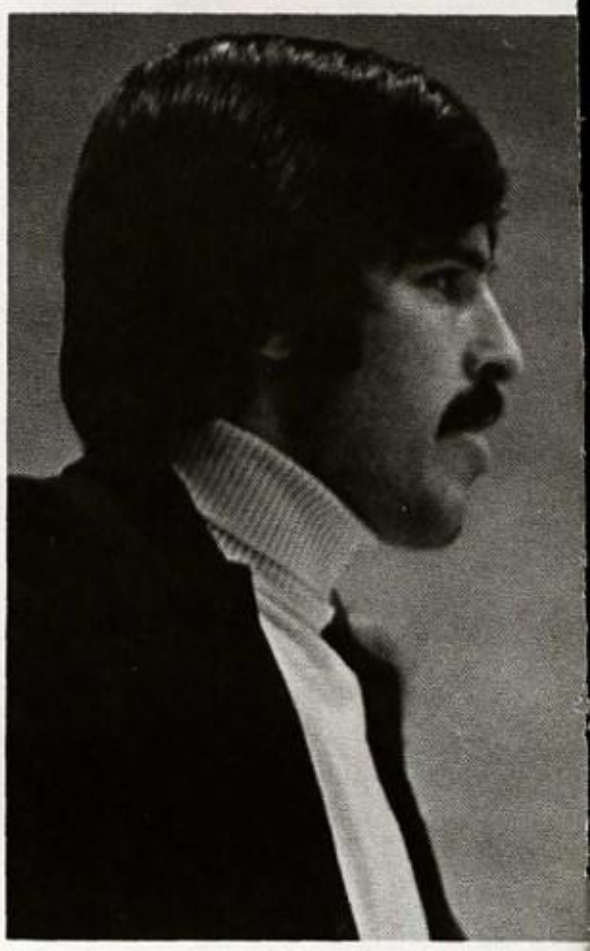
Basketball Surprises All

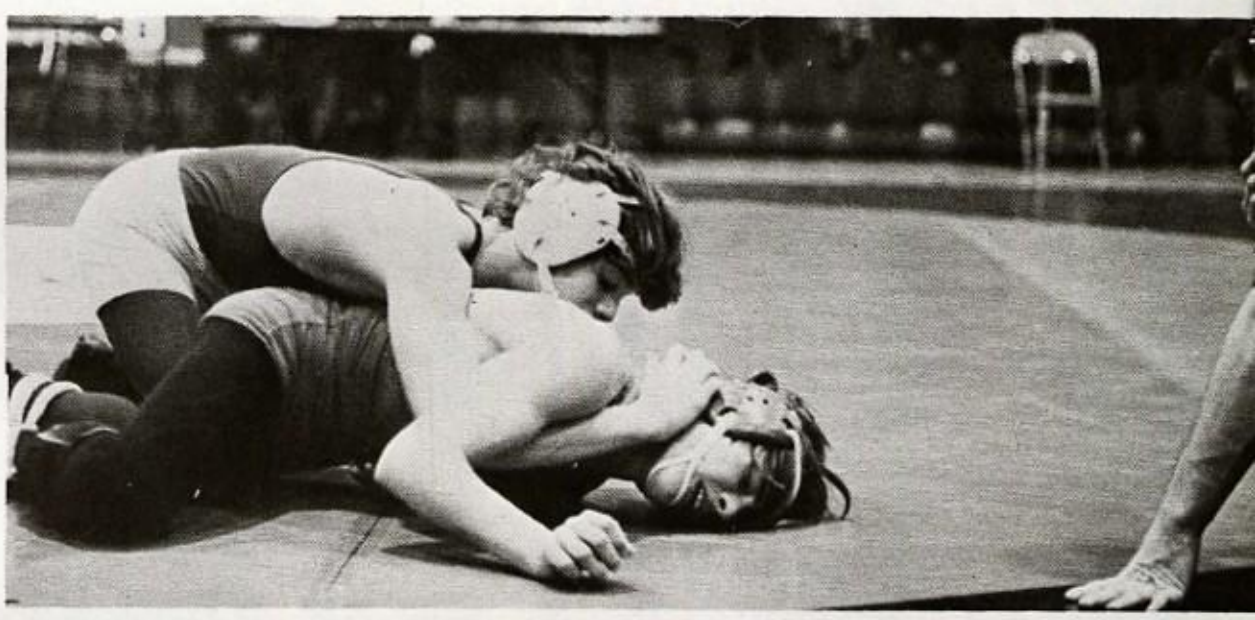
After tying a record before the season began (fewest returning lettermen — zero) the 1973-74 Basketball Knights turned in a performance which is something more than respectable. Even though our roundball charges suffered defeat at the hands of Central, Coach Jim Robinson's B-Ballers won a measure of revenge over former Knight mentor Jim Kubacki with a victory over his Whitmer team. Co-captains Tom Gerken and Bob Sikorski provided the kind of floor leadership which allows Knight supporters to look into the not so distant future with the proverbial "great expectations."

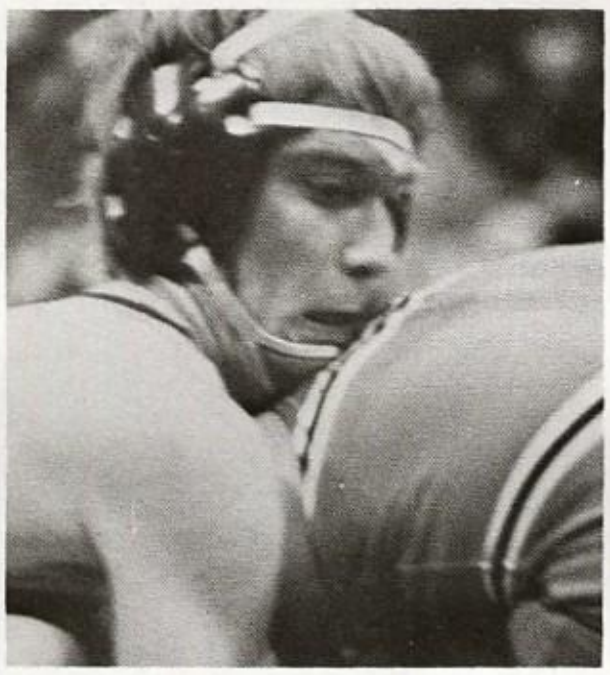


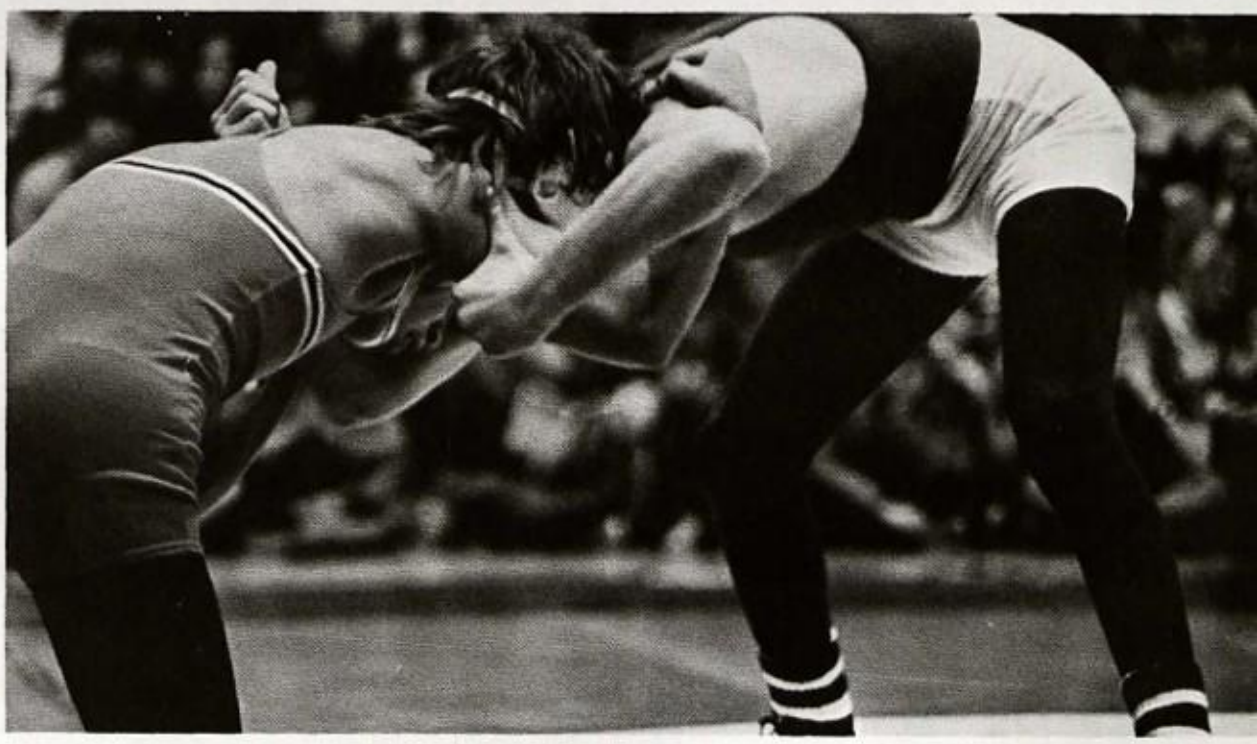
KNIGHTS

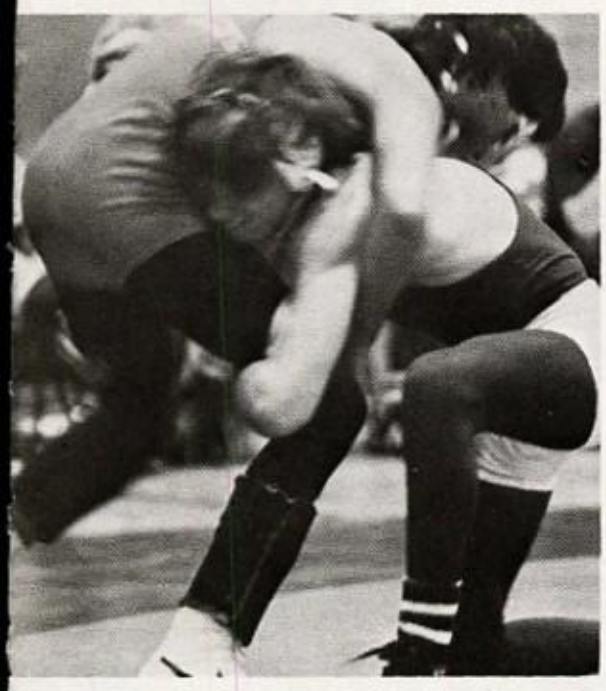




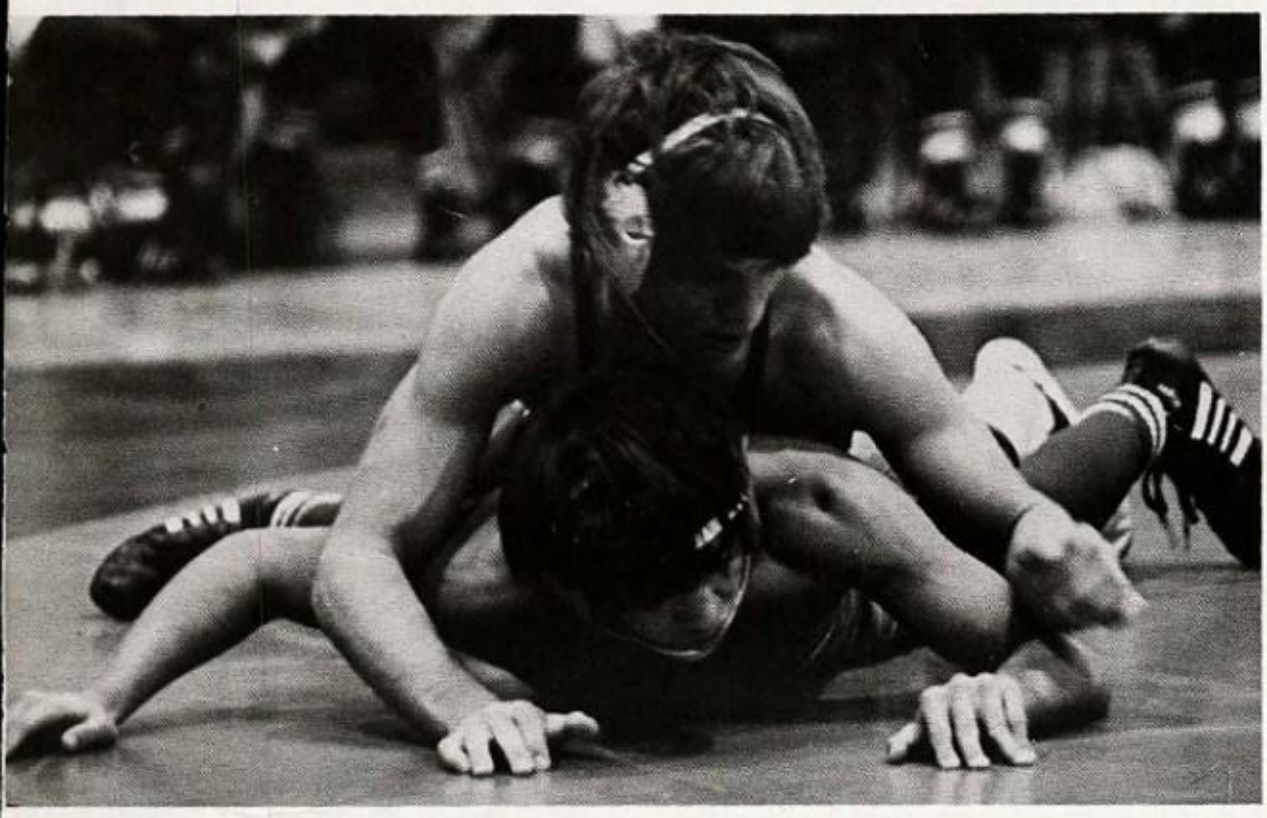


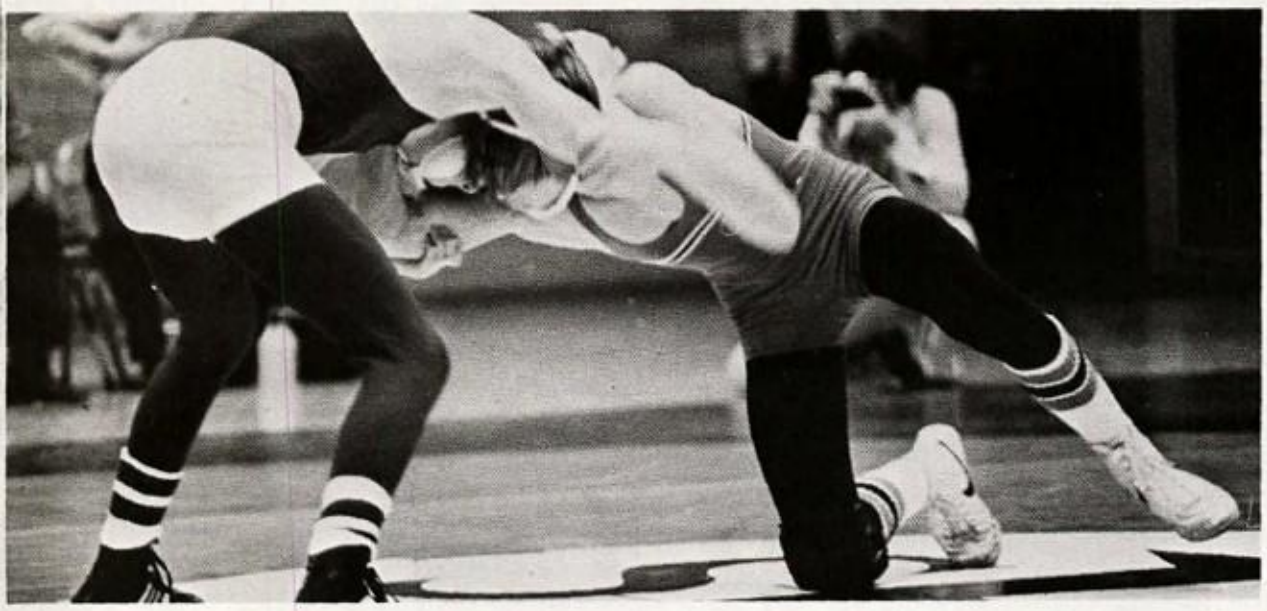






A Mat Is A Lonely Place

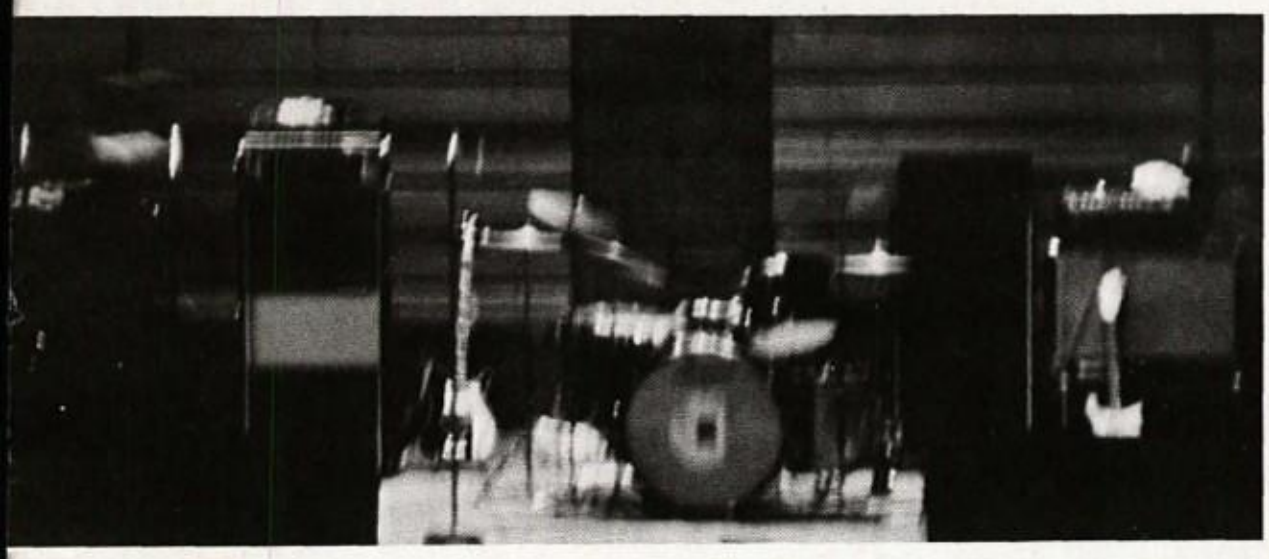




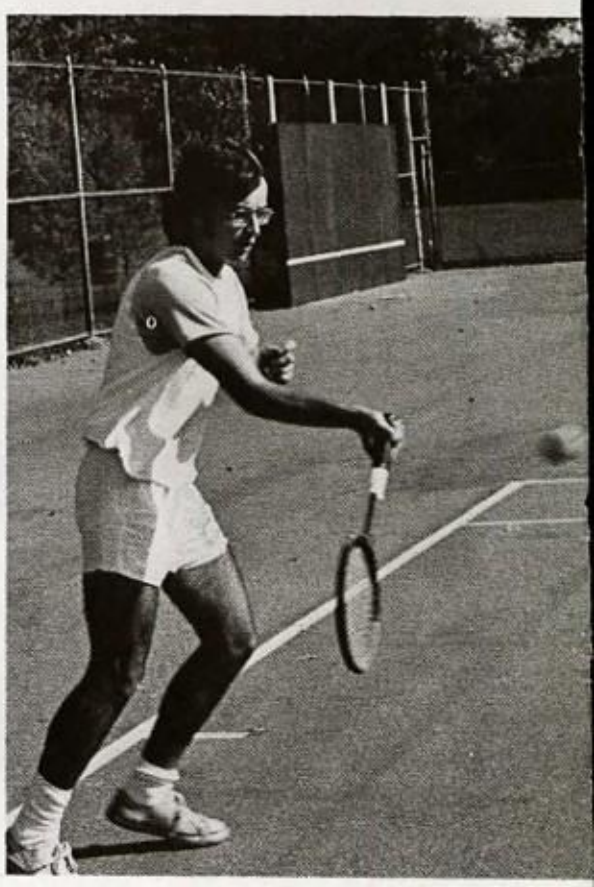
Wrestling is a lonely sport; there is no way to avoid that conclusion. Running and lifting from afternoon til evening every day. Walking out onto a mat before friends, enemies alike solely to place one's public and private respect in jeopardy. To win — alone or to lose — alone. To many the record became 122-1-0. A loss is a step back: perhaps it is the wrong direction, but it enables a sense of perspective. The wrestler builds for the team, for the school. He may lose, but the "team" will win. A thankless task it is, and the tribute belongs to the wrestler, whomever he may be, for it is his sacrifice, his isolation, which win the day.

Knights Boogie!

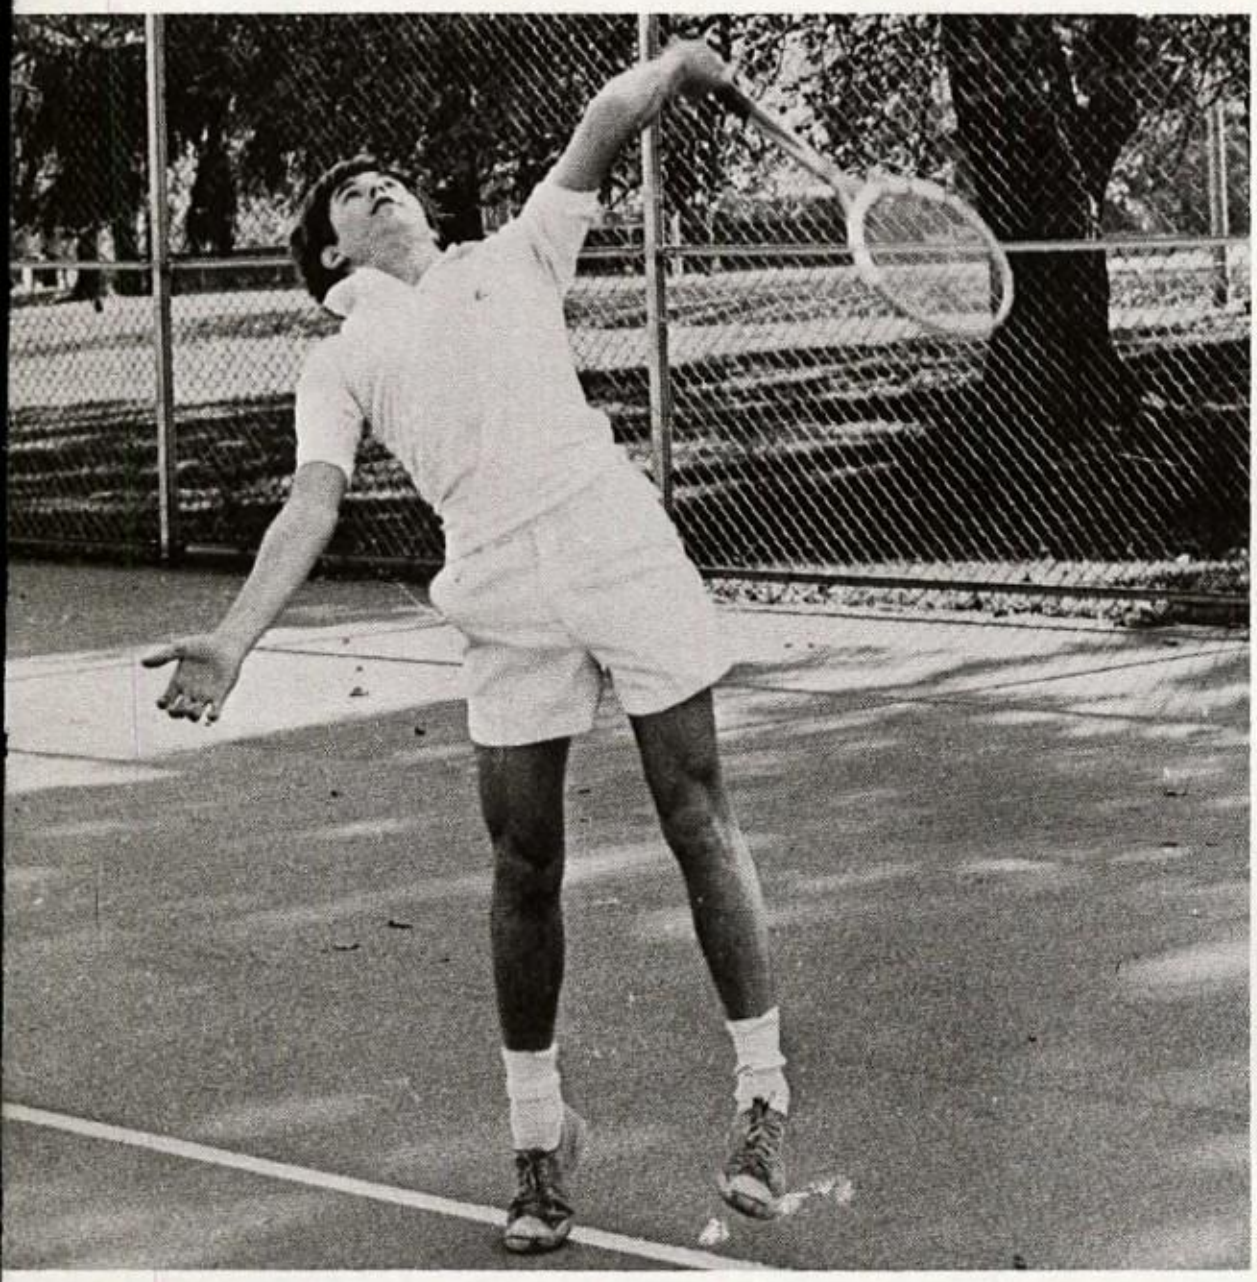
Student Council - sponsored dances relieve a multifaceted burden for the men of St. Francis. While producing much of the SC revenue, dances offer the opportunity to escape from everyday pressures as well as create the social occasion to meet with members of the opposite sex. A good deal of the credit for our successful dances belongs to Jim McGowan and Galaxy Productions, who also supervise the procurement of musical magicians for "special events" — Homecoming, Christmas dances and the Junior/Senior Prom



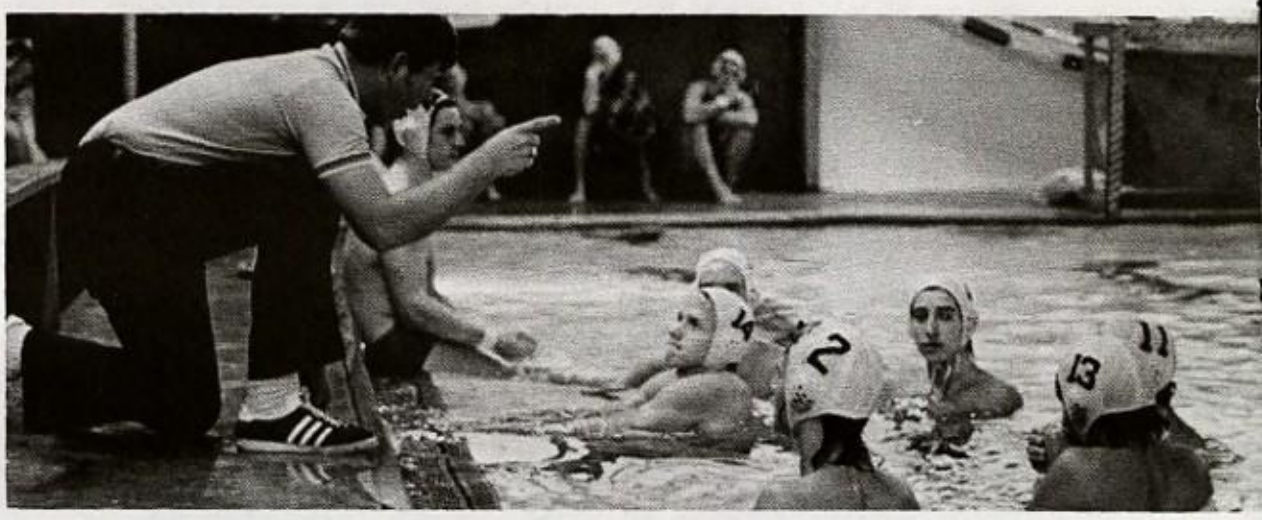
Intramurals: Fun Follies of the Fall

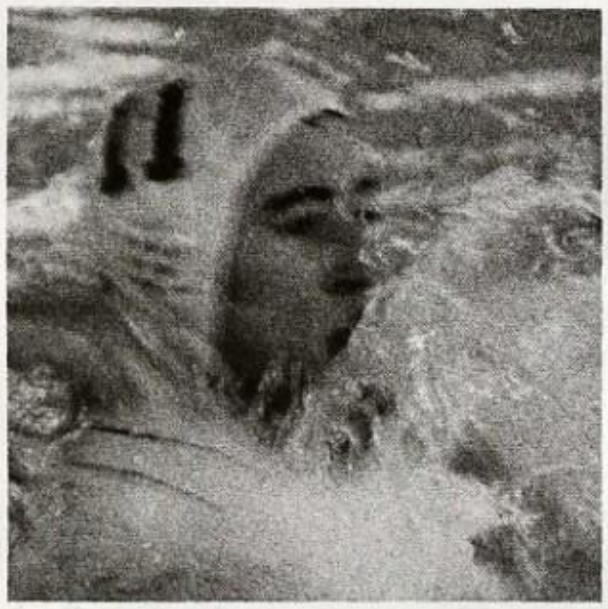


Intramurals. There. One says it all when one uses that word around St. Francis. For in the autumn months, when days getter shorter and trees turn barer, and everybody finds himself back behind a desk and an eight-ball, the programs which are grouped under the heading "intramurals" slowly begin to take shape. A football bounces across the 40-yard line. A freshman follows it. A tennis ball dives across the net. Jeff LaPlant is not far behind. Football. Tennis. Fall. Father Jim "Caesar" Sottek. Colorful portraits of a high school in action. Intramurals. What can you say when you've "said it all?"



Knight's opponents all wet





A new aquatic sport was christened this year, one whose cornerstone is firmly implanted in our powerful swimming program. The Aqua-Knights, as they have come to be called, have compiled an outstanding record despite fierce competition from the other water polo teams they confronted. With Coach Dennis Graves at the helm, the team has sailed through the season 12-1. Their only setback came at the hands of Ann Arbor Huron, who needed the win to avenge an earlier loss to the Buoys from Bancroft. With Senior co-captains Bill O'Conor and Bob Wohl providing leadership and Junior Chris Johns providing points, the Aqua-Knights averaged 15 goals a game to their opponents' 4. The State Championship proved a most satisfying knight cap as the SFS entry easily dunked their rivals in the waters of Euclid Ohio. Dominance is difficult in sports. But the team has demonstrated that it possesses both the will and the way.

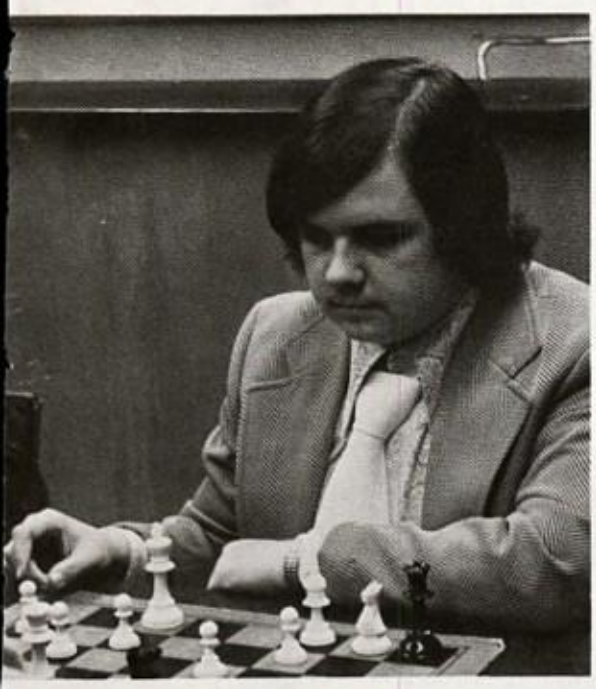
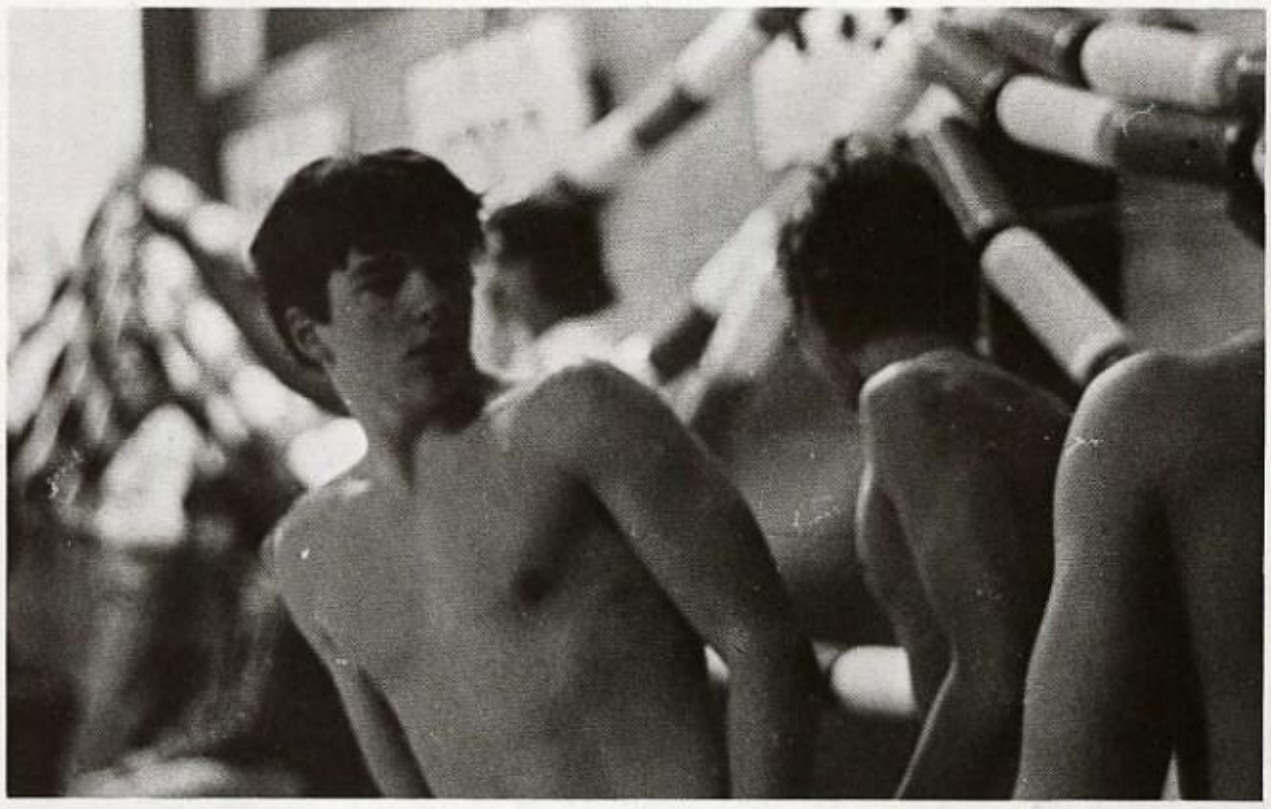
Intelligence. Quick Reaction. Luck?

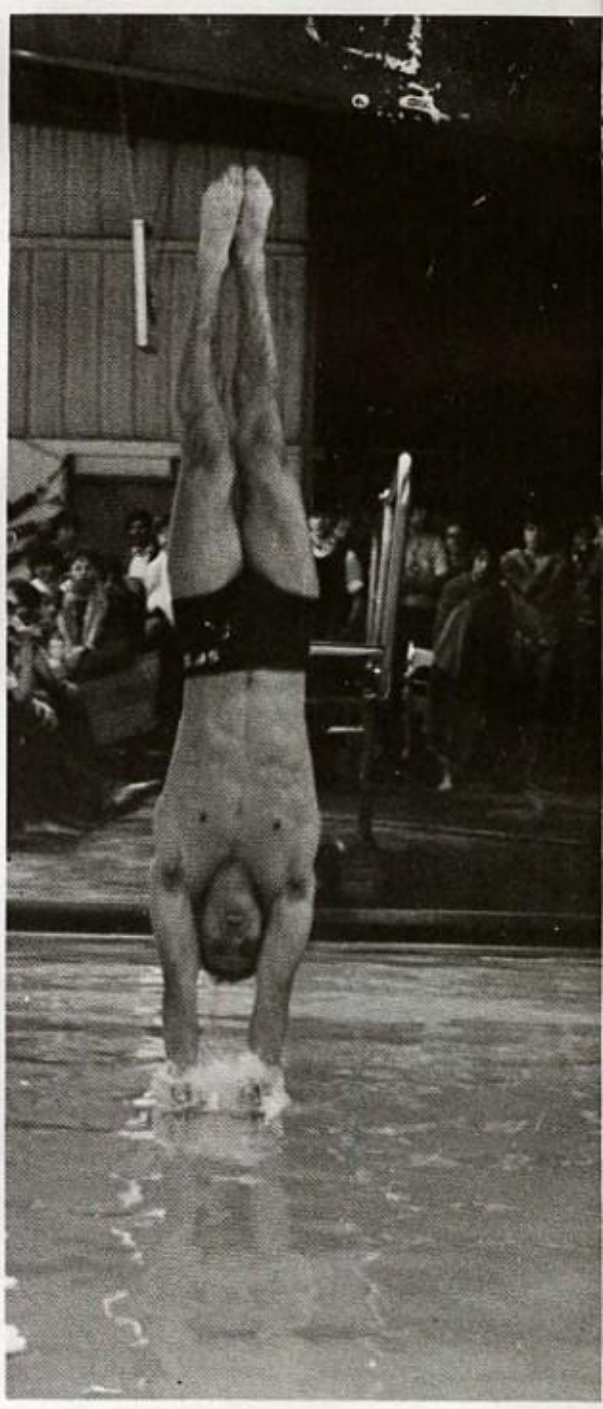


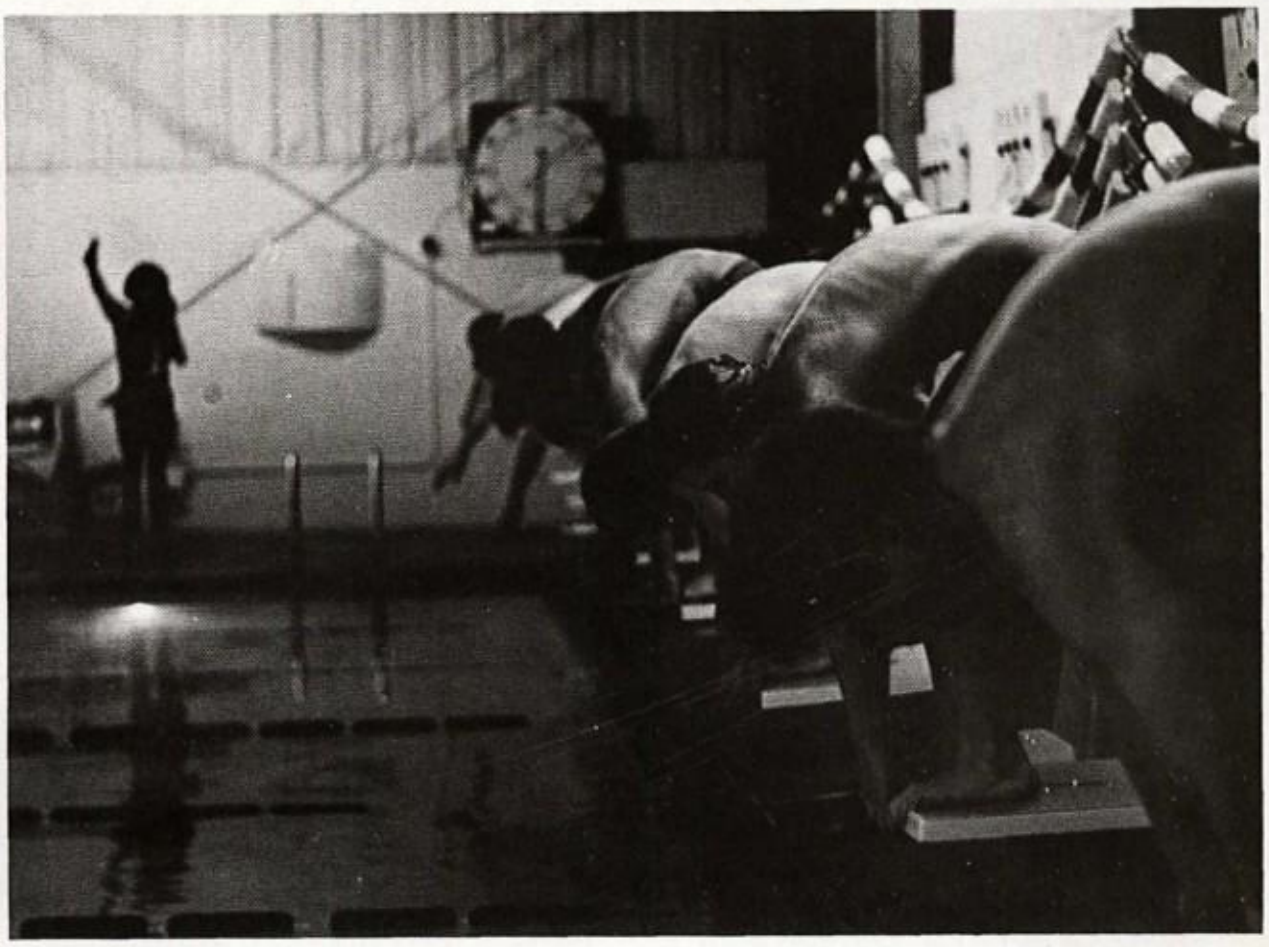
Two battlefields. Alike and yet so different. The bright and noisy arena of a TV studio or a dimly lit, nearly deserted classroom. A step into a basically foreign environment or competition in one of the world's oldest contests. Yes, they are different, but both Quiz Bowl and Chess rely on a certain intelligence, quick reactions and a quanta of luck. Fr. Koelzer's 1973 Quiz Kids, Jim Conrad, Ron Mieczkowski, George Lewandowski, Joe Johnson and Bob Busse participated in an agressive match but fell to Cardinal Stritch. Fr. Ankenbrandt's fared better, manuvering to victory in more than half of their matches.

Swimmers Vie For State Honors

The 1973-74 Swimming team was one of the best in St. Francis history. While floundering only under the fins of national power St. Xavier, the Aqua-Knights dominated their other dual-meet rivals. Under the direction of Butch Graves, Fr. Bill Fisher and captains Bill O'Conor and Robert Wohl, our swimmers have the potential for taking a stroke toward the State Championship.







Icers Face-Off With Foes

With all the action of the N.H.L., the St. Francis hockey club flashed across the ice. With the aid of coach Bob Schiller and assistant coach/moderator Pat Geraghty, the hopes of a fruitful season were made the reality. The icers had hard times with the league leaders Whitmer and Woodward, but bounced back with victories over Lake, Clay and other opponents. The lights were flashing now and so were the hopes of city placement in the league.

Christmas 1973

Christmas 1973. An energy crisis looms before us. Life is definitely changed . . . Cars are used more sparingly, thermostats are lowered and Christmas lights are almost nonexistent. As Skylab circled the planet, Kohoutek shone its light earthward. Dreams of a White Christmas were fulfilled by a twelve inch blizzard. (They even closed school!) The coming of the Prince of Peace was celebrated in various ways: terrorist bombings in London, small skirmishes in the wartorn Middle East, and there were even a few religious celebrations. Children tore through wrapping to view their gifts, but the one greatest gift was still missing. Still hunger, crime, and war, but still the hope of a world free from these trials. Christmas 1973.

Keglers Practice Skills

The Bowling teams at St. Francis, just might receive the greatest number of opportunities to practice the skills learned in school. Besides the necessary strength and co-ordination, the bowlers must study the motion and momentum of a spherical projectile, the arithmetic calculations of scoring, the correct techniques of body "English", and occasionally even Religion (a prayer for a string of strikes, perhaps.) Fr. Edward Chrzanowski is the moderator of the keglers, and the famed Kowalski brothers, Steve and Mike, are dedicated to surpassing the accomplishments of their able and experienced leader.

Forensics Forge Forward

One of the newest and yet most successful competitive groups at St. Francis is the Forensics team. While only in their second year, the debaters, lead by coach Ester Kalmbach and moderator Larry Jankowski have turned in a number of fine performances. Outstanding individuals including Jack Hart, Bob Busse, Mike Korpics, Bob Croskery, Ed Buzek and Jeff Ulman have helped to write a phenomenal success story including "firsts" in the Golden Knight and Ohio State Forensics Tournaments, and regional and national ranking. Hours of practice and research have earned our debaters the laurels of a power; laurels which they will hold for years to come.

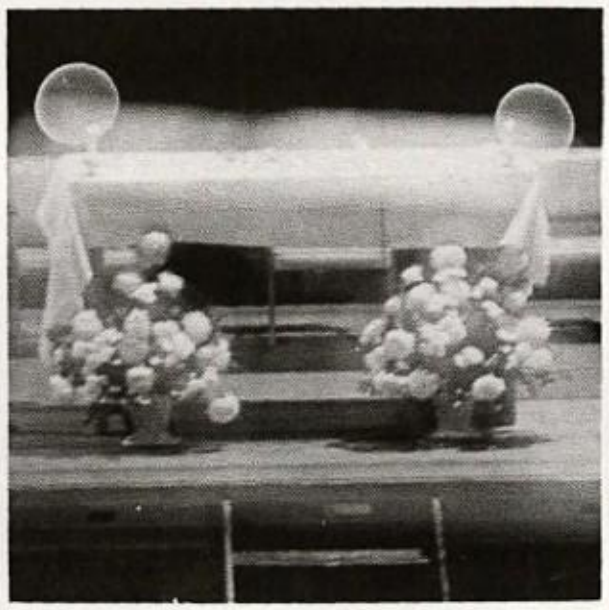
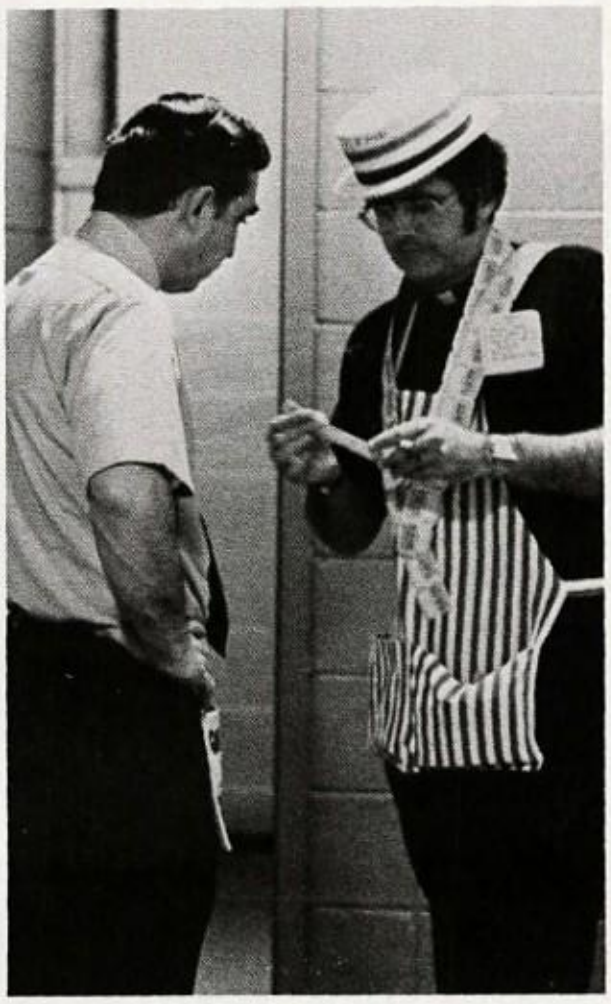
Parents Help Keep SFS Alive

There are two organizations which are absolutely essential for the continued growth and prosperity of the St. Francis community. The Chappuis and Brisson associations, moderated by Fr. Thomas Landgraff and Fr. William Fisher respectively, provide much in the way of financial support, and donate their time in a number of other ways. Mr. Charles Comes acts in a special capacity, his efforts and endless support having served the St. Francis community from its very inception.



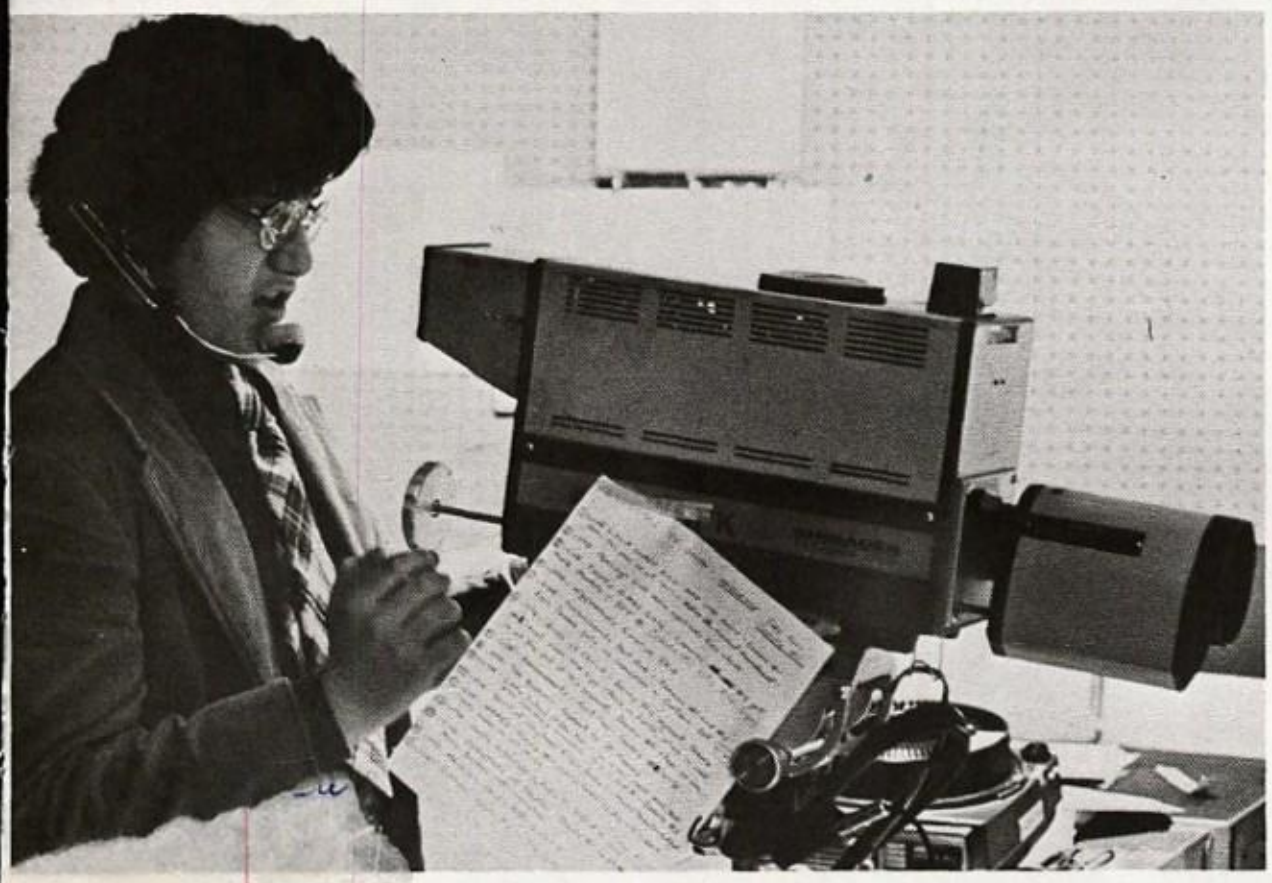
A Day For All

One annual event at SFS not only produces the necessary financial food to keep St. Francis functioning, but also gives masses of people the opportunity to indulge in contests, raffles and other games of chance. The Brisson and Chappuis associations along with the student co-chairmen Tom McHugh and Dan Cullum spent many hours in tedious preparation of this endeavor-Funarama. Even though we all can't be winners of large or expensive prizes, we all can delight in the prospect of adding one more year of existance to St. Francis.



CHANNEL

TV Makes Turn For Improvement



WSFK, the Knights' television station, underwent a major format change for the '73-'74 viewing season. The daily shows were replaced with a weekly production which enabled a longer, more professional program. The new WSFK enables more students to become involved with the inside details of TV production, and, under the capable direction of Mr. Robert Stucker, promises to be a far cry from the days of WSFK's infancy.

The Accolade copy is revealed; the advisor frowns. Tony Slawinski's apple flies across the room as his assistant editors, George Lewandowski and Larry Schmidbauer grin guiltily; Mr. Moran's frown deepens. Scott Bieszczad and Nick Moulopoulos emerge from the darkroom: what's up? Both shrug, returning to their task as John McGowan, Joe Johnson and Jim Conrad return from "Mac's" with dinner. Mike Karolak and Tim Mouch drop everything, and are the first to reach the bag. Mr. Moran smiles. Tony sits back from the layout with a sigh and looks over to see how Larry Tremsky is faring. MusiKnights

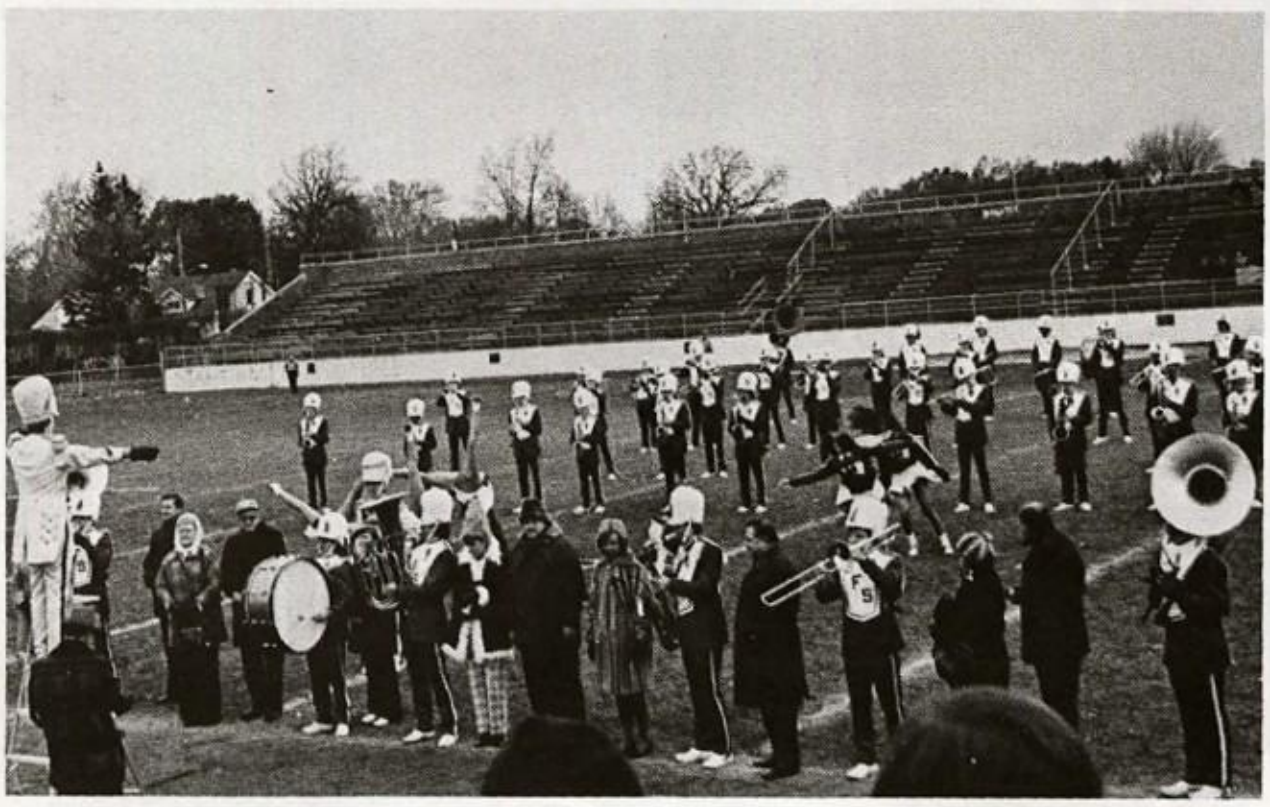
Up from the depths of barest toleration, the music department at St. Francis has matured, mastering the rhythm and beat of the now sound. Under the experienced baton of Mr. Ed Zaplatel the band reached new heights in musical entertainment. The music department sprouted another branch with the conception of the glee club, meticulously directed by Dr. Robert Carroll. In conclusion, the music department fulfills an important cultural need in the St. Francis community.



LANCE

The LANCE this year continued improving. Under the leadership of moderator Mr. Laurence Jankowski, co-editors Ron Mieczkowski and Jim Sanford, and sports editor Tom Buehrer, many fine issues of the LANCE were turned out. Many thanks are also due to the writers, columnists, typists, photographers and other staff members who worked many long hours trying to put out the best newspaper in the history of St. Francis High School.

Student Council Sets Way For Student Body

Many SFS activities are managed and/or funded by the Student Council. Steve Bova, Marty Werner, Brian Kenney and Marc Schlatter, along with moderator Fr. Richard Forti, class and sectional representatives and committee chairmen all give of their time and effort to insure the success of various St. Francis undertakings. While a number of students receive a taste of governmental processes, ranking even greater in importance is the fact that everyone learns of the tremendous responsibilities and the spirit of co-operation which are prevalent in any workable organization.
